FRANCIS BERNARD, Eſq;

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS at a Treaty held at Eaſton, in Pennſylvania, in October laſt, Peace was concluded and ratified between the Lieutenant Governor of Pennſylvania, and the Governor of New-Jerſey, on the Behalf of their reſpective Provinces, and the reſt of His Majeſty's Subjects in America, of the one Part, and the Eight Confederate Indian Nations, and the Indians called the Delawares, the Unamies, the Miniſinks, the Wapings, and the Mohiccons, of the other Part; which Peace hath ſince, by the Intervention of Brigadier General FORBES, been acceded to, ratified and confirmed by the ſeveral Nations of Indians living on the Ohio: Now I do, by and with the Advice of His Majeſty's Council, hereby proclaim, publiſh and notify the ſaid Concluſion of Peace unto all His Majeſty's Subjects within this Province, ſtrictly commanding and requiring them, and every of them, henceforth to treat the ſaid Indians as Friends and Brethren, and carefully to avoid all Cauſes of Strife and Contention with them. BOSTON, February 5.

WE have an Account by the Poſt which came in on Tueſday laſt from the Weſtward, That as he came from Providence a large Topſail Schooner was ſtanding up the River ſlowly by reaſon of the Ice; and being haled, it was ſaid to be a Prize taken by Capt. Cook, in a Privateer of that Port.

The New-York Privateer Brigantine Sampſon, being at Providence, was drove down the River, in the violent Storm on Friday 7-night, the People being moſtly aſhore, ſhe was caſt away near Collins's Farm.

Laſt Thurſday Morning Capt. French arrived here in 4 Days from Halifax, who informs, That two Sloops bound from the Eaſtward to Annapolis Royal, with Wood, the Maſters McFarland and Read, foundered at Sea in the late ſtormy Weather, all the People except one, were taken up by Capt. Tucker in a Ship from Liſbon, bound to Marblehead, who arrived there laſt Friday.

Friday Morning laſt about a Quarter paſt Two o'Clock, a conſiderable Shock of an Earthquake was felt in this and the neighbouring Towns, but thro' GOD's Mercy it has done no Damage as we have yet heard of.

We hear that the General Aſſembly in their perſent Seſſion, have voted the Sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Pounds Sterling, for the erecting a Monument in Weſtminſter-Abbey [in England] in Memory of the Right Honourable George, Lord Viſcount Howe, who unfortunately loſt his Life in Defence of his King and Country, in the late Attack at Ticonderoga.

We hear from Portſmouth, New-Hampſhire, that laſt Thurſday Night a Fire broke out in the Forecaſtle of a Ship from the Weſt-Indies, mounting 20 Guns, lying at a Wharff in ſaid Town; but, it being ſoon diſcovered by the Watch, the timely Aſſiſtance of the Inhabitants of the Place ſaved her, and prevented what Damage might have happened; as her Powder was then on board, and not carried to the Powder-Houſe.

NEW-YORK, February 19.

About 4 o'Clock laſt Wedneſday Morning, we had a moſt violent Gale of Wind, at S. W. which laſted till 10, and did conſiderable Damage to many large Veſſels, and ſmall Craft in this Harbour. The Culloden, juſt ready to ſail for Ireland, Captain Kar, loſt her Mizen-maſt; the Brig Pliny, Captain Thompſon, loſt her Main-maſt by the Board; the Sloop Relief, Captain Bethel, had her Starboard Bows ſtove, and a Schooner bound out to South-Carolina, loſt her Boltſprit, and carried away Part of her Gunnel; in ſhort the greateſt Part of the Veſſels in the Harbour ſuffered more or leſs, and ſeveral ſmall Boats were intirely rendered uſeleſs, two or three of which ſunk at the Wharffs loaded with Flour, &c. The Craft at the North River ſuffered much, and moſt of the new Wharffs lately built out there, are entirely waſhed away.

Yeſterday the Snow Johnſon, Captain Mitchell, arrived in 7 Weeks and 3 Days from Cadiz. The 6th of January, in Lat. 33, 52, Lon. 23, 31, he ſpoke with his Majeſty's Ship the Lancaſter, Capt. Man, of 64 Guns, bound to Barbados: She belonged to Commodore Hughes's Squadron, but ſprung her Foremaſt ſoon after ſhe left England, and was obliged to put back to Spithead.

Yeſterday alſo Captain Durell arrived in 20 Days from Barbados, and brought the following agreeable Intelligence from that Iſland, viz.

Extract of a Letter from Barbados, dated Jan. 13, 1759.

"This Day ſailed from this Iſland, under the Command of Commodore Moore, deſtined againſt Martinico, the following Ships of War, having 80 Tranſports under Convoy, viz. The St. George, Gatier, of 90 Guns; Cambridge, (Commodore Moore) Burnet, 80; Norfolk, Hughes, 74; Buckingham, Tyrrell, 70; Berwick, Jackel, 64; Burford, Gambier, 64; Panther, Shuldham, 64; Lancaſter, Man, 64; Lyon, Trelawny, 60; Rippon, 60; Wincheſter, Le Cras, 50; Briſtol, Leſley, 50; Ludlow-Caſtle, Clark; Woolwich, Parker; and Roebuck, Lynn, of 40 each; Renown, Mackenzie, 32; Amazon, Norton, and Rye, Deering, of 20 each; with the Weaſel, Bonetta, and Spy Sloops; and the Granada, Infernal and King-Fiſher Bombs. On board the Tranſports are ſix compleat Regiments, viz. Barrington's, Howard's, Elliot's, Watſon's, Armiger's, and Drurore's, a Detachment from Antigua, 800 Marines, 800 Highlanders, 400 able Negroes, and 5000 ſpare Arms."

Captain Durell informs us, That on the 27th ult. a Veſſel came up to Barbados, and brought a certain Account, That our Army, under the Command of Major General Hopſon, were all ſafely landed on the Iſland of Martinico, were in high Spirits, had taken a Fort of 15 Guns, and were within three Miles of Fort-Royal; that the Bomb-Ketches had juſt begun to play upon the Fort; that our Fleet had blocked up, in one of their Harbours, a Ship of 74 Guns, another of 60, and two Frigates, ſo that they could not eſcape; that the Governor of Martinico had ſent to St. Vincent's, &c. for 500 Indians (150 of which had actually landed) but Commodore Moore getting Intelligence thereof, took Meaſures to prevent the Arrival of the Reſt.

Capt. Durell alſo informs us, That Capt. M'Pherſon, in a Privateer Ship belonging to Philadelphia, has taken two French Sloops, bound to St. Euſtatia from Martinico, with a great Quantity of Plate, and other valuable Effects, beſides £ 18,000 Sterling, in Caſh.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Barbados, to his Friend in New-York, dated January 27, 1759.

"The 13th of January Commodore Moore ſailed from hence, in order to attack Martinico, and it is ſaid if they ſucceed there, they have Orders to proceed to Guadaloupe, and the other French Iſlands to Windward of Montſerrat; the Fleet conſiſts of 16 or 18 Sail of Men of War, 4 Bomb Ketches, 6 compleat Regiments, 800 Marines, a Company of Highlanders, and a Train of Artillery: That they had juſt received an Account, that the Troops had landed without the Loſs of a Man, and they ſoon expected to hear of the Reduction of the Iſland. This Iſland offered 1000 able Men, to have gone on the Expedition, if required; and as many Negroes."

On Tueſday laſt a Dutch Schooner from Cape Francois, arrived here thro' the Sound; taken and ſent in by the Captains Leycraft and Valentine, in two Privateers from this Port----her Lading is Sugar, &c.

VIENNA, November 2.

THE Government has raiſed in Croatia a new Corps of 8000 Men, who are to ſerve all the Winter.

Berlin, Nov. 7. The King has promoted Major de Heyden to the Rank of Major General, as a Recompence for the brave Defence he made at Colberg; where with only a Handful of Men, and a Place without any Out-works, and only ſurrounded by a ſingle Rampart, he held out a Siege from the 3d to the 31ſt of October, againſt 15000 Ruſſians.

Ratiſbon, Nov. 2. A great Ferment hath been obſerved for ſome Days paſt among the Members who compoſe the College of the Imperial Cities, who have lately held ſeveral private Meetings, to conſider of a Hint given them, from the Court of Vienna, that it was expected they ſhould raiſe Money to defray the Charge of the Pay of the General Officers for the Winter Quarters that were in the Army of the Empire. The Towns of Ulm and Augſbourg have made the ſtrongeſt Remonſtrances; firmly proteſting againſt this heavy Demand, and abſolutely refuſing to comply with it. The College hath been adviſed to apply again to the Emperor on this Subject, and repreſent to him, that they cannot in Juſtice, according to the Laws and Conſtitution of the Empire, be compelled to bear alone a Burthen of this Nature.

Mentz, Nov. 5. The French have carried off all the Salt they found at the Salt-works of Hanau, and have ſent it into Wirtemberg [to pay the Penſion the Duke receives from France.]

Paris, Nov. 10. This Week ſeveral Cannon of a new Invention were proved at our Arſenal, and it was found that they may be fired twelve Times in one Minute.

Mentz, Nov. 9. They write from Caſſel, that their Condition is almoſt as deplorable as that of Saxony; that moſt of the Members of the Regency are put under Arreſt, and are to continue ſo till the laſt Contribution of One Hundred Thouſand Crowns impoſed on the Inhabitants of that City be entirely paid. But if the Letters we receive from that Quarter are full of Complaints againſt the French, Accounts from Munſter ſay, they cannot ſufficiently extol the wiſe Meaſures taken by Prince Ferdinand of Brunſwick to prevent all Diſorder and Rapine in the Places where his Army is quartered.

Liege, Nov. 12. As yet there appears no Inclination in the Clergy of this Country to grant the free Gift demanded by the Emperor; they alledge, that the Country is already oppreſſed enough, as well by what they advance to the French Troops, as by the triple Contingent and the Roman Months, of which they pay their Quota; and they inſiſt that the Imperial Court cannot juſtly exact from them an extraordinary Subſidy, without previouſly obtaining the Conſent of the Pope.

Bruſſels, Nov. 13. The States of Brabant are actually deliberating on Ways and Means to raiſe the Four Millions of Florins demanded by the Empreſs-Queen towards defraying the Charges of the War.

Breſt, October 31. We have had the moſt violent ſtormy Weather for ſome Days paſt that has been known for many Years. Great Numbers of Ships have been drove aground, and the Shore is covered with Pieces of Wrecks and dead Bodies. The Houſes likewiſe have ſuffered very much, upwards of 700 Chimneys having been blown down, and ſeveral Houſes unroofed.

Hamburgh, Nov. 10. By Letters from Roſtock, dated the 5th Inſt. we learn, that a Detachment of 500 of the Duke of Mecklenbourg's Troops arrived there two Days before, and that the Officers and Soldiers had Orders to live at Diſcretion on the Burghers till ſuch Time as they paid to the Duke the Remainder of the Contributions lately demanded by the Pruſſians.

Copenhagen, Nov. 7. A few Days ago a Swede, named Moerbeck, was arreſted here, on the Accuſation of being one of the principal Authors of the late Attempt to excite an Inſurrection in Dalecarlia. All his Papers and Effects are ſeized, and will be ſent to Stockholm, where they may tend to diſcover his Accomplices.

Dantzick, October 26. The Ruſſian Reſident has inſinuated to ſome Members of the Regency in private Converſation, that the Empreſs his Sovereign would be very glad if ſome Meaſures could be taken in an amicable Manner for the Subſiſtence of a Body of Ruſſian Troops; and that ſhe would be very much obliged to the Regency, if they would deſiſt from their Oppoſition to the Admittance of the ſaid Troops into the city. But ſeveral Members of the Council have given the Reſident to underſtand, that it would be in vain to bring this Affair again upon the Tapis, as a Propoſition of ſuch a Nature would put the whole City in a Ferment; and then the Ruſſian Troops could not hope to get any Neceſſaries from the Inhabitants for any Conſideration.

Liſbon, Oct. 17. His Majeſty is now out of all danger. Yeſterday the Queen's Almoner died ſuddenly, which has occaſioned a great diſorder in the court. The diſgraced Secretary, who was ſent to Maragnan, has been taken at ſea by Barbary rovers, and carried into ſlavery.

Genoa, Oct. 28. The laſt letters from Madrid adviſe, that the infant Don Lewis, and the miniſtry, were intent upon ſome projects in which the court of Portugal ſeems to be deeply intereſted; that the generals and officers of the land forces have received orders to repair forthwith to their reſpective corps, and that a general review of them is to be made ſome time next month.

Theſe letters add, that, according to advices received from New Spain, all the colonies of that continent were in very good order, the governors of the forts and towns having punctually followed the inſtructions diſpatched to them from court.

Stockholm, Nov. 3. The King's Heyduke, Teiberg, has been put to a new kind of torture, having been let down twice into a ſubterraneous place, under a running water colder than ice, and of ſo corroſive a nature, that there is no remaining in it an hour, without danger of death. It is ſaid that the third time he made a confeſſion, but of what nature is not known. Lieutenant Colonel Ramſey is on the road hither from Finland, who is alſo to be examined.

Berlin, Nov. 14. A tempeſt has diſperſed and thrown upon the coaſt of Pomerania twenty Ruſſian veſſels, laden with proviſions and ammunition, that were to have entered Colberg, in caſe the enemy could have taken the place.

Paris, Nov. 13. Our troops in Weſtphalia are going into winter-quarters, and it is poſſible they may be no more employed there, if what is given out be true, that the allied princes are going to ſet their hands to a treaty of neutrality, which is ſaid to be on foot, by which they engage not to interfere, either directly or indirectly, in the war between the Empreſs-Queen and the King of Pruſſia.

Mentz, Nov. 18. The Prince of Soubiſe deſigning to fix his head-quarters at Gieſſen, he has not only wrote to the Landgrave of Heſſe-Darmſtadt about it, but has alſo made Baron Zuchmantel, a French miniſter in the empire, ſollicit that Prince to agree to the propoſals: but we are aſſured that the Landgrave never will freely reſolve to let him neſtle in a place of ſuch importance, which is an univerſity, and is alſo well fortified with baſtions, lunettes, broad ditches, full of water, and an excellent covert-way.

Paris, Nov. 17. Several advices from Flanders mention ſome letters being intercepted, which, it is ſaid, have diſcovered a plot, formed in a neighbouring country, to deliver up a place to our enemies, which does not in fact belong to us, but in whoſe preſervation we have a great concern, becauſe we are intereſted in the welfare of its owner.

We have had no news from North-America for ſome time, which gives us no ſmall uneaſineſs. The taking of Louiſbourg, together with the weakneſs of our marine, and the difficulty of ſending over ſuccours, ſufficient to ſtop the progreſs of the Engliſh, gives them a ſuperiority over us, of which if they know how to make a proper uſe, we may feel the conſequences to our ſorrow.

Dunkirk, Nov. 17. Our port is now in ſo good a condition, that large ſhips can come into it without any riſk. Yeſterday we had a proof of it, in the arrival of the Danae and Hermione frigates, who came up into the harbour without any difficulty or danger.

Copenhagen, Nov. 11. The Sieur Hammond, a Counſellor of the Court of Chancery, having been convicted of forging a number of bills of exchange, is to be beheaded next Monday, after firſt having his right hand ſtruck off.

Florence, Oct. 28. Two companies are gone from our garriſon to reinforce that of Leghorn.

Hague, November 23. They write from Ratiſbon, that a new Demand having been made of 24 Roman Months, the Diet did not ſeem diſpoſed to grant it; but, on the contrary, were entering into Debates to gain Time, till the Iſſue of Affairs in Saxony was ſeen. In the mean time it is evident, that the Elector of Bavaria is by no Means diſpoſed to ſupport the Auſtrian Meaſures, in carrying Things to Extremities, by publiſhing and fixing Decrees and Edicts, injurious to the Honour of the greateſt Princes in the Empire, and which can ſerve no other Purpoſe than increaſing the preſent Confuſion.

Hanover, November 22. If the War continues, we ſhall make an Augmentation of ten or twelve Thouſand Men in our Troops.

Frontiers of Heſſe, Nov. 20. Some regiments of the Prince de Soubiſe's Army have taken Poſſeſſion of the Town of Gieſſen, in the Landgraviate of Heſſe-Darmſtadt.

Naples, Nov. 1. The Government's Attention to Commerce contributes to make it flouriſh more and more in the Kingdom, eſpecially in this Capital, where many Merchantmen of different Nations, richly laden for the Account of our Merchants, arrived a few Days ago.

We continue caſting of heavy Artillery, which is ſucceſſively ſent away to all the maritime Towns in his Majeſty's Dominions.

Genoa, Nov. 4. Letters from Madrid of the 17th paſt aſſure us, that the King had reaſſumed the Reins of Government; that they are at the Eve of a great Change in the Miniſtry; that the Secretary of State, in his frequent Conferences with the Earl of Briſtol, has ſtrongly complained of the Inſults offered to the Spaniſh Flag by the King of Great-Britain's Ships, and Privateers of that Nation; that they highly reſented the plundering of the Dutch Ship that carried the Equipages of the Marquis de Pignatelli, the King's Ambaſſador to the Court of Denmark; in fine, that the King hoped the Britiſh Court would readily make Satisfaction for theſe Injuries; but in caſe of a Refuſal, his Majeſty would find himſelf obliged to take ſuch Meaſures as might beſt procure that Satisfaction.

Toulon, Nov. 7. The Pleyade Frigate of 26 Guns which returned here ſome Time ago, has received Orders to take in a freſh Supply of Proviſions for three Months, and to go to Mahon with 400,000 Livres, and to take under her Convoy two Tartans with live Cattle. The Gracieuſe of 26 Guns, is alſo victualling for five Months, and it is preſumed ſhe will join the Pleyade, and afterwards go to the Levant. M. de la Clue, Chef d'Eſcadre, who commands the Squadron at that Port, is very aſſiduous in viſiting the Batteries along the Sea Coaſt, and is fortifying them in ſuch a Manner that they will be capable of reſiſting the utmoſt Efforts of the Engliſh, in caſe they ſhould make any Attempts to recover that Place.

Hague, Nov. 24. We hear from Sweden, that the Ferment in that Kingdom encreaſes daily, and the Senate are greatly perplexed. They leave no Stone unturned in order to keep Matters quiet; but party Spirit riſes ſo high, and ſpreads to ſuch a Degree, that even Children cry out in the Streets againſt the Meaſures of the Government. Therefore the Royal Commiſſion take all imaginable Precautions to prevent an Inſurrection, at leaſt till the Meeting of the next General Dyet, which, according to preſent Appearances, will not be of the ſame Temper as the laſt.

Hague, November 28. Some private Letters from Vienna inform us, that his Poliſh Majeſty has wrote to the Empreſs Queen, to deſire her Permiſſion to retire thither. Affairs are ſaid to be in the moſt critical Situation between the Courts of Madrid and Liſbon.

Hague, Nov. 29. The Princeſs Governante, on receiving the Memorial delivered to her by the Deputation of the Merchants of Amſterdam, &c. exhorted them to have Patience for ſome Time longer, and promiſed to employ her Credit in England in their Behalf. To which they replied, 'That the Time they were to wait muſt be very ſhort; and 'requeſted that ſhe would be pleaſed to fix the Term, a-'gainſt which ſhe hoped to procure them Relief; becauſe 'if Things ſhould ſtill continue on their preſent Footing, 'their Ruin would be compleated in ſix Months.' Whereupon the Princeſs aſſured them, 'That ſhe would acquaint 'them with ſomething conſolatory and ſatisfactory in ſix 'Weeks; that Lord H. had written to the States the Rea-'ſons why the Complaints made by the Dutch Merchants 'had not been taken into Conſideration in England; and 'that ſhe would order a Copy of his Lordſhip's Letter to 'be delivered to them.' Which was done immediately; after which the Deputation returned, to wait impatiently for the Expiration of the Term fixed.

Hague, Nov. 30. The Dey of Algiers has declined accepting the Republic's annual Preſents; he inſiſts upon Cannon, Powder, and other Warlike Stores. Upon this Refuſal, the Captain of the Man of War that carried the Preſents, has depoſited them in the Houſe of the Dutch Conſul, and put off to Sea from Algiers.

Letters from Peterſburgh of the 8th Inſtant inform us, that the Ruſſian Miniſtry are much taken up with the Affairs of Poland and Courland, and were caſting about for Expedients to terminate them to the Satisfaction of the Royal and Electoral Houſe of Saxony.

Dreſden, Nov. 26. The King of Pruſſia has refuſed to give Audience to Count Wackerbarth, who was commiſſioned to compliment him in the Name of the Prince Royal; and in Conſequence of the Orders intimated to that old Courtier, as well as to the Counts de Loos, Rex, and Stubenberg, to the Baron de Wetzel, and to the Privy Counſellor Salmour, they are all ſet out for Warſaw, except the Baron de Wetzel, who goes to Munich. This unexpected Order, the true Motives to which the Court are as yet ignorant of, has occaſioned a Conſternation which cannnot be expreſſed.

Florence, Nov. 18. Beſides the two Companies out of the third Battalion of Tuſcan Troops in Garriſon here, which a few Days ago was ſent to Leghorn, Orders have been ſent to the Commiſſaries of the reſpective Villages to inliſt 700 Men to compleat the Garriſon of Tuſcany.

Berlin, Nov. 27. The Coſſacks, on leaving Pomerania, committed the greateſt Exceſſes. They murdered M. Manteufel, a Gentleman of 70 Years of Age, in his own Houſe at Poplow, even after he had given them 2000 Crowns.

Hague, Dec. 1. The States have deliberated on the proceeding of the Algerines, and it has been reſolved, in caſe the Dey perſiſts in his Refuſal of our Preſents, and requires ſuch as we ought not to make him, to ſend Admiral Seltz before Algier with a ſmall Squadron, to bring that Barbarian Regency to Reaſon. 'Tis ſaid that the Men of War which have lately returned from cruizing will be employed for this Purpoſe.

Hague, Dec. 2. Private Letters from Weſel ſay, that the French Army is in a very bad Condition, and ſome of their beſt Corps in a Manner wholly ruined; their Officers ſpeak of Prince Ferdinand with great Bitterneſs; they give out that he did all his Buſineſs in the Night, and by his perfect Acquaintance with the Country, cut off continually their detached Poſts, ſo that in the Courſe of the laſt ten Weeks they have loſt more Men without any Action, than they ſhould have done in a deciſive Battle.

LONDON, November 9.

By a letter from Dantzick of the 27th of October, we have an account, that the Ruſſian General Brown, with about 9000 Ruſſians of all ſorts, that were wounded in the battle of the 25th of Auguſt, and have been ever ſince at Thorn, were ſending down the Viſtula in veſſels, for eaſy carriage to Konigſberg and other places in Royal Pruſſia.

It is obſervable, that in the apology for Count Daun's conduct in the preſent campaign, his wiſdom is highly commended in taking ſuch meaſures to diſtreſs Prince Henry of Pruſſia in Saxony as obliged the King to make a forced march to his relief, which hindered his Majeſty from cruſhing the Ruſſians. It is difficult to underſtand how this wiſdom of Count Daun is reconcileable to the veracity of the court of Vienna, who have all along maintained that the Ruſſians were victorious.

Nov. 11. The laſt Advices from Naples ſay, that the King has directed all Leaves of Abſence to be ſuperceded, by an Order dated the 10th of October, and requires all the Officers in his Service to join their reſpective Corps without Delay.

Nov. 14. By private Letters from Copenhagen of the 31ſt ult. we learn, that the King of Denmark is uſing his utmoſt Endeavours to bring about an Accommodation between the Parties now at War.

Nov. 21. The laſt letters from Stockholm repreſent things there as being ſtill in a very critical ſituation, the Committee of Inquiry being equally afraid to proceed on the informations they have already taken, or to decline thoſe that are ſtill offered; as a general ſpirit of diſcontent reigns through the whole kingdom, and the people ſeem inclined to lay hold of the firſt opportunity to overturn what is now ſtiled the Ruſſian and French faction, who have ruled of late with a rod of iron.

Our advices from Ratiſbon intimate, that ſeveral Princes and States of the Empire have made overtures to the King of Denmark, in order that he may offer his mediation, in the moſt efficacious manner, for putting an end to the preſent troubles in Germany, and for taking the moſt vigorous methods to ſecure the peace and independency of the Empire, and the excluſion of foreign troops on any pretence for the future.

Nov. 23. The oldeſt ſerjeants belonging to the regiments that are gone with Commodore Hughes, were diſcharged, and ordered to town, in order to be ſent into the ſeveral counties to inſtruct the militia in the exerciſe of their arms.

The Tryal privateer, Capt. M'Taggart, was taken the 23d ult. by a French frigate from Quebec, and burnt; the crew are ſince arrived at Falmouth from Breſt.

Nov. 28. There are accounts from France, that the French are deepening the ditch round Fort Fouras, and repairing the works of that fortreſs; that they are alſo adding greatly to the works at Rochfort; and that a repair of the fortifications in the Iſle of Aix will be ſpeedily undertaken.

We are informed that above 2000 priſoners of war are ordered to be exchanged with all convenient ſpeed; and it is ſaid, when this exchange is effected, not more than half that number of our men will remain priſoners to the French in Europe; and that in America the enemy have not above 1200 of our people priſoners.

We hear that a great man in the city has offered to the miniſtry the raiſing of ſeven millions of money at three per cent. but with this condition added to it, viz. That every ſubſcriber ſhall have an annuity of one and a half per cent. for life.

Nov. 30. Letters from Smyrna, dated the 5th of October, ſay, that the plague was ceaſed there, that the ſhips for England were loading, and would be diſpatching all that month with clean bills of health.

Letters from Cologn of the 22d inſtant import, that a convention is ſettled between the court of France and Elector of Triers, by which it is agreed, that part of the French troops under Prince Soubiſe ſhall garriſon fort Ehrenbreitſtein (ſituated where the Moſelle falls into the Rhine facing Coblentz) and the reſt of the troops ſhall go into winter-quarters in the county of Hanau, and along the banks of the Maine.

December 2. Since the ſeparation of the Diet of Poland, without doing any buſineſs, which will be always the caſe whilſt any power whatever will expend an hundred ducats for that pious end; the election of a Duke of Courland hath been brought on the carpet in the Senatus Conſilium. There are four candidates for this dignity. Count Bruhl is eager for having the Prince Royal of Poland choſen. The court of Vienna would gladly ſee the Courlanders fix their choice on one of the Archdukes. France leans to Prince Xavierus, ſecond ſon of the King of Poland. The Empreſs of Ruſſia having ſeen his younger brother Prince Charles, was quite charmed with him, and declared openly for him; and it is highly probable that her Imperial Majeſty will have ſo much credit with, and aſcendency over the ſtates of that dutchy, as to induce them to chuſe him for their Duke. It is aſſured, that even if this project ſhould not ſucceed, he will ſtill reſide at the court of Ruſſia; and that the Ruſſian miniſtry have thoughts of placing him, in due time, on the throne of Poland.

We hear from Warſaw, that the Poliſh ſenate are like to be as troubleſome to their monarch as the diet, on account of a deputation from the city of Dantzick, complaining of the danger they are in, and the apprehenſions they are under, and requiring the protection and interpoſition of the Republick to free them from both. Some of the principal nobility openly and vigorouſly ſupport this application, and inſiſt that a part of the Crown army ſhould be ſent to cover that city from any inſult.

We hear the Land-tax for the next year will be four ſhillings in the pound.

Dec. 5. Laſt Wedneſday a 36 gun frigate of war was launched from a private yard near Deptford; and in a few days another of the ſame force will be launched from another private yard near the former.

About Chriſtmas two other ſhips of war of 70 guns will be launched in the river.

Three additional Commiſſioners of the navy, for carrying into execution the late act of parliament for regulating the payment of ſeamens wages, will ſhortly be appointed, and are to reſide at Sheerneſs, Portſmouth, and Plymouth.

December 7. By letters from Dreſden we have an account, that his Pruſſian majeſty, for the better encouragement of his troops lately harraſſed and fatigued with marches and countermarches, in bringing about the deliverance of Saxony and Sileſia from the deſigns of the Auſtrians, has, in order to give them a proper reſpite from their labours, ordered a draught to be made out of the garriſons in Sileſia, Saxony, and Brandenburg, to ſerve in their ſtead, and replace them in the aforeſaid garriſons. It is added, that by all appearance, the Pruſſian army would make a winter's campaign againſt the Auſtrians.

The Torrington man of war, of 44 guns, is put into commiſſion, and the command of her given to Charles Lucas, Eſq; commander of the Medway buſs.

------ Hampden, Eſq; is appointed Poſt-maſter general, in the room of the late Sir Everard Faulkner.

Dec. 9. Laſt week the hon. lieutenant-colonel Howe was choſen without oppoſition member of Parliament for the town of Nottingham, in the room of the late Lord Viſcount Howe his brother, who was killed in America.

We hear ſeveral regiments in Ireland are ordered to be compleated, and to be ready to march on the firſt notice.

Dec. 12. They write from Warſaw of the 18th ult. that his royal highneſs Prince Charles was arrived there from the Ruſſian army, and that moſt of the ſenators were gone into the country to their eſtates, not at all pleaſed at the ſituation of affairs in that kingdom.

Dec. 14. The freſheſt advices from the Hague ſay, that parties in Holland are ſo equally ballanced, and oppoſe each other's meaſures with ſuch keenneſs, that they can only agree in doing nothing. The fair trader, or, as they call themſelves, the Dutch traders, exclaim bitterly againſt the French merchants, alledging, that the ſubjects of the republick might have acquired immenſe eſtates, by a free and fair trade during the preſent war, if the exceſſive avarice of private perſons had not put them upon ſchemes, which never could have been ſucceſsful, unleſs ſupported by a maritime power, the expence of which would have been at leaſt equivalent to all the profits they could expect.

We hear from Portſmouth, that the French king's allowance to the priſoners in that neighbourhood has been lately ſtopt by an order from the French court, which has cauſed great murmurings amongſt them.

Dec. 16. In a kind of recapitulation of Marſhal Count Daun's conduct in the laſt campaign, which is handed about at Vienna, it is ſaid, that at the time he accepted the ſupreme command, the Imperial army did not conſiſt of above 70,000 effective men; that it was proportionably weak in officers; and that in the courſe of the preſent campaign, he had not only raiſed and diſciplined a formidable army, but with this new-raiſed army had hindered the King of Pruſſia from invading Auſtria, and carrying the terror of his arms to the gates of Vienna.---But the truth is, that had not the Ruſſians invaded the Marche of Brandenburgh, Daun could have made no figure at all this campaign; nor can it be ſaid that he has done any thing except a ſurprize in the dark.

The King of Portugal has taken a reſolution not to build the city of Liſbon upon the old ſpot, but at or near Belem, about three miles lower down the river; but there are many ſtately houſes for Engliſh merchants, &c. building on the old ſpot. Numbers of our Artificers, who went thither for refuge and employment, failing of the latter, have been obliged to leave that place, and go to Holland.

The Lords of the Admiralty have put the Terrible man of war at Portſmouth into commiſſion, and given the command to Capt. John Collings.

Glaſgow, Nov. 20. On Saturday laſt the ſecond battalion of the Right Hon. Lord John Murray's royal regiment of Scots Highlanders, marched from this place for Greenock, in order to go on board the tranſports for North-America.

BOSTON, February 19.

By the laſt Veſſels arrived from Halifax we have Advice, That the Men of War there were getting in Readineſs to ſail on the ſhorteſt Notice.---And that a Ship from England, laden with Powder, &c. was arrived at Marlegaſh; ſhe came out with the American Fleet in October laſt.

NEW-YORK, February 26.

Friday laſt Captain Tillot arrived here in a Ship, in 12 Weeks from Briſtol but has brought no News. A few Days before he came into the Hook, Captain White, of the Ship Amazon, of Briſtol, and Capt. Bowes, of the Brig Margaret of Philadelphia, were put on board him by a Veſſel from St. Auguſtine, where they had got a Paſſage from the Havanah, being both taken and carried in there the firſt of January laſt (having ſailed from Jamaica 17 Days before) by a French Frigate from St. Domingo, for Bourdeaux, who had three large Sugar Ships under her Convoy.

By the Captains White and Bowes we learn, That a Fleet of 60 Sail was to leave St. Domingo in January, and that they intended to puſh through the Gulph.

Extract of a Letter from St. Euſtatia, January 19.

"At preſent we are in a moſt lamentable Situation, in regard to our Trade, much worſe than if we were actually at a War with the Engliſh, as they now take all our Veſſels into Antigua and Montſerrat, and condemn them without any the leaſt Heſitation, the ſame as they would any Frenchman; and uſe us much worſe; for they will not allow the Sailors to have any Proviſions, nor even to ſtay on board one ſingle Hour after they are brought into Port. What will be the Event of theſe Things, Time will ſhew; I could wiſh we had an honourable Peace." I am, &c.

Part of a Letter from Charleſtown, S. Carolina, Feb. 10.

"Capt. Tucker, one of our Pilots, is juſt come up, and acquaints me, that he ſpoke a Veſſel at Sea this Day, from St. Kitts for Georgia, one Martin, Maſter, who aſſured him, That our Fleet was arrived before Martinico; and that our Forces were Maſters of two Forts before he left St. Kitts; That General Hopſon had ſent in a Flag of Truce, to demand a Surrender of the Iſland; to which the French General anſwered, He would defend it to his laſt Breath."

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.

On Monday laſt the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province met here.

By Captain Morlidge, from Providence, we have Advice, that the Spry Privateer, of this Port, Captain Spring, in Company with Captain Braddock, of that Iſland, has taken, and ſent in there, the Sloop St. Joſeph, laden with Sugar and Coffee: The Fair Lady, with Fiſh: The Frow Andino, her Lading Sugars: And the Eliſabeth, loaded likewiſe with Sugars. The Firſt is a French Spaniard; the other three Daniſh Veſſels. The three firſt were condemned; and it was thought the Fourth would ſhare the ſame Fate. Captain Spring was gone out again to purſue his Cruize, in Company with Captain Braddock.

A Letter from Providence, by Captain Morlidge, mentions ſeven Dutchmen having been lately ſent in there, and condemned, whoſe Cargoes were ſelling when he ſailed.

The Ship Roebuck, Capt. Rankin, of this Port, bound to St. Chriſtophers, is taken, and carried into Guadaloupe.

By Captain Mulford from North-Carolina we learn, that the Privateer Brig Hawk, Capt. Wright, of that Place, had taken and carried in there, a French Snow, deep loaded with Sugar and Coffee.

The Captains Arthur, Greenway, Nuttle, Morrell, Abercrombie, Campbell, and Reeſe, are all arrived at Kingſton, in Jamaica, from this Harbour.

And Monſieur Chatteleau (of late but too well known on our Coaſt) is arrived at Cape-Francois, and propoſes, it is ſaid, to pay us another Viſit in the Spring, and to bring a Conſort with him.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtick.

On Saturday laſt the Snow Muggy, Captain Simpſon, arrived here from Antigua, by whom we have the following Advices, viz.

St. JOHN's, in ANTIGUA, January 10.

ON Sunday laſt arrived here the Snow Nancy, Captain Graham, from Briſtol. She had the Misfortune to be taken off Willoughby Bay by the Prince of Wales, and a large French Sloop Privateer; which being obſerved by Captain Varlo, in His Majeſty's Sloop Antigua, he made the proper Signal off Engliſh Harbour, and Captain Bayne, in the Sloop Spy, immediately ſlipt, and went out. On this the Enemy (tho' ſtill ſuperior in Force) made off with ſuch Haſte, that they ſuffered the Prize to be retaken by the Antigua and Spy, with all the Frenchmen that had been put on board her. When Captain Graham was boarded by the Enemy, he behaved with great Bravery, and received ſeveral Wounds in his Hands and Head.

The Alacrity and good Conduct Captain Varlo ſhewed on this Occaſion; the extraordinary Care he took of Captain Block; and the Proofs he has upon all Occaſions given of his Concern for the Safety of our Trade, certainly merits the higheſt Commendations; and will, undoubtedly, meet with ſuitable Returns of Gratitude from the trading Part of the Iſland.

Jan. 13. The Privateer Ship Britannia, Captain M'Pherſon, has taken a large Letter of Marque Schooner, of 10 Guns, and a Sloop, both richly laden, and carried them to St. Chriſtophers. A ſmall Privateer, belonging to this Place, and another belonging to Montſerrat, were in Company.

This Morning His Majeſty's Sloop Antigua, Captain Varlo, brought in a new French Privateer Schooner, of 6 Guns.

January 17. A Detachment of 200 picked men, and no more, embarked on board the tranſports at Engliſh Harbour yeſterday morning. The remaining 500, of his majeſty's 38th regiment, are to hold themſelves in readineſs for further orders.

Jan. 20. Yeſterday a French Flag of Truce was conducted hither by the Trial Privateer, Captain Cummings. She had been at St. Chriſtophers, and left that Place, under Pretence of coming up to Antigua, but was met with by Captain Cummings near Guadaloupe, and he had Reaſon to think ſhe was bound in there, therefore judged it proper to take Care ſhe went to the Place ſhe ought to be at.

January 24. This morning capt. Mullins, of the privateer Lampoo, arrived from a cruize, and gives the following account; That laſt Wedneſday morning he joined Commodore Moore's fleet off Martinico, and was informed by the captain of the Commodore's tender, that ſome troops had been landed in Fort Royal Bay, at ſome diſtance to the weſtward of the fort, and had deſtroyed a battery which was there, and re-imbarked with very little loſs. A ſenſible negroe boy which capt. Mullins took at Martinico, ſays, that about 14 or 15 Engliſhmen were killed, and two taken priſoners, and that about as many Frenchmen were killed, and a great many wounded. Capt. Mullins ſays that one of his Majeſty's ſhips (which he believes might be the Briſtol) attacked a ſmall battery to the weſtward of St. Pierre's, and ſoon ſilenced it; that immediately afterwards two other batteries, one on each ſide of the ſhip, began to play upon her; and by means of a ſpring on her cables, ſhe brought a broadſide to bear upon each battery, and cannonaded them the greateſt part of the day, and came off in the evening. Capt. Mullins plainly perceived the ſhip had ſuffered nothing in her rigging, but could not tell what damage might be done the batteries. He alſo ſays that two of the bombs threw many ſhells, which, as near as he could judge, fell in the town and fort of Fort Royal.

Capt. Mullins parted from the fleet on Saturday laſt between Martinico and Dominico.--- They were ſtanding to the northward.

A veſſel the Lampoo ſpoke with informed her, that the Briſtol privateer, belonging to this place, and one or two others, had retaken a brig of 16 guns, and ſent her to Anguilla.

Yeſterday his Majeſty's ſloop Antigua brought in a French letter of marque ſloop, laden with beef, wine, &c. bound from St. Euſtatia for Guadaloupe.

January 27. On Thurſday laſt capt. John Thibou, of the ſloop Parham, arrived here from Barbados, and by him we learn, that 250 Highlanders were arrived there from Greenock, beſides the 700 formerly mentioned in this paper; and that 7 tranſports, with all the Highlanders on board, ſailed from thence the 20th inſt. under convoy of his majeſty's ſhip Rye, capt. Deering, in order to join the fleet.

Capt. Thibou fell in with the fleet off Guadaloupe on Tueſday morning, and the tranſactions he afterwards obſerved are contained in what follows.

Extract from Capt. Thibou's Journal.

"On Tueſday the 23d inſt. at half an hour paſt 8 o'clock A. M. diſcovered the Engliſh fleet off the S. E. end of Guadaloupe; they extended from a point a little to the S. E. of Baſſeterre as far as the iſles of Saints, and ſome of the ſhips were cloſe under the ſhore. Baſſeterre then bore from me about N. E. diſtant 5 leagues.

"At a quarter paſt 10 a ſmoke aſcended from the town of Baſſeterre, which I imagined was occaſioned by a bomb. ---And a quarter of an hour afterwards I heard a very ſmart cannonading: Moſt of the ſhips of war were at this time cloſe in ſhore off Baſſeterre, and the tranſports were ſome to leeward, and ſome to windward, but not far diſtant.-----The fire from the ſhips, and from the enemy's batteries, was extremely ſmart,

"At 11 o'clock ſeveral ſmokes aroſe, which, I ſuppoſe, proceeded from the ſhells thrown from the bombs. I fell in with a ſhot-away boltſprit and ſeveral pieces of wreck, which from the wind and tide, I imagine drifted from Martinico.-----At 35 minutes paſt 11, a ſhip paſſed cloſe to windward of me, but not within hail; I ſuppoſed her to be the Buckingham; ſhe was crouding to the S. E. with the wind at E. N. E. and endeavouring by all poſſible means to join the fleet.

"At 12 o'clock the enemy's fire abated to the northward of the town; but the ſouthermoſt battery, which I take to be the grand one, ſtill fired ſmartly; and our ſhips made the elements ſhake.----At this time I had tacked, and Baſſeterre bore N. E. diſtant 3 leagues.

"In the afternoon, the wind at E. N. E. and my courſe S. E. At half an hour paſt one, the ſhip I took to be the Buckingham tacked and ſtood to the northward, making the beſt of her wind at N. E and by E. The cannonading continued till 2 o'clock to the ſouthward of Baſſeterre, but whether from the enemy's batteries or our ſhips I cannot judge, but conjecture the latter. At half paſt two I tacked and ſtood to the northward, Baſſeterre then bearing N. E. and by N. diſtant 3 leagues. At this time the cannonading ceaſed at interims, and believe, by the diſtinction of ſmoke, the town has been bombarded and ſilenced. The tranſports alſo are bearing down in a line, which makes me imagine the troops are going to land.----The ſhip I take to be the Buckingham bears S. W. half W. diſt. 2 leagues, ſails heavily.

"At half paſt 3 the tranſports tacked and ſtood to the S. E. in a line. I have reaſon to believe the St. George is diſabled in her foremaſt, as ſhe has only ſtay-ſails ſet forward.----The Commodore's ſhip bears E. N. E. diſt. two leagues, and the town of Baſſeterre E. N. E. diſt. 1 1-half leagues.-----Fifteen minutes afterwards Baſſeterre bore N. E. and by E. diſt. 1 league. At this time the grand battery fired very briſkly, and alſo the ſhips. The principal part of the tranſports ſtood to the northward under the ſhore of Baſſeterre.---A quarter paſt 6, ſpoke to the Lyon man of war, her main-top-ſail yard in the top, top-ſail unbent, and ſeveral ſhots through her ſails. At half an hour paſt 6 the cannonading and bombarding was very ſmart; and at half an hour paſt 9, ſaw a large fire, which I imagine to be the town in flames; and at 10, heard ſeveral volleys of ſmall arms on ſhore, which I ſuppoſed to be the troops landing. The cannonading and bombarding ſtill continues. The ſhip I ſuppoſed to be the Buckingham ſails heavily, but all along makes the beſt of her wind, and I ſuppoſe will get up to the fleet this evening.

"The fire in the town was not extinguiſhed at 6 o'clock the next morning. On the 25th, at 8 o'clock (the point to the northward of the Hay then bearing E. by S. diſt. 3 leagues) ſaw a ſhip to windward, with her larboard tacks aboard, ſtanding to the ſouthward, diſt. about 2 leagues. At noon Antigua bore N. half E. diſt. 6 leagues, and ſaw a large ſmoke at Guadaloupe. At 3 in the afternoon fell in with a brigantine, who gave us a ſhot, but ſhewed no colours, and half an hour afterwards ſhe tacked in our wake, and gave chace, but we out-ſailed her, and at 3 the next morning anchored under the fort at St. Johnſon's Point."

Yeſterday morning Capt. John Leacraft, of the privateer Bonny Jane, arrived here from Guadaloupe, and by him we learn the following further particulars of the attack at Baſſeterre, viz.

"That after a very ſmart cannonading on Monday afternoon, and all the day on Tueſday, the bombs continued to throw ſhells all the night, being directed by the flaſhes of the guns on the enemy's batteries; and on Wedneſday morning the enemy's batteries were found to be almoſt wholly deſtroyed, and two thirds of the town burnt by the ſhells; That about 3 o'clock on Wedneſday afternoon the troops landed in excellent order, and with ſuch ardour, that they had not patience to let the boats ſtrike the beach, but jumped into the water as ſoon as they came to a fordable depth, their only care being to keep their muſkets and ammunition dry. It is ſaid that the detachment from the 38th regiment were the firſt that entered the grand battery; that they drove the enemy from the entrenchments behind it, blew up the magazine, and took poſſeſſion thereof, without the loſs of a man. That all the batteries and the town were in the hands of the Engliſh in a very little time, the enemy flying in very great diſorder to the mountains.-----The crews of ſeveral privateers took the opportunity of landing with the troops, in order to plunder the town; but every thing they got was, with great juſtice, ſeized by the boats belonging to the ſhips of war, and ſeveral of the people belonging to the privateers detained, which were found actually plundering.

"Capt. Leacraft left the fleet on Wedneſday evening, at which time our troops were in poſſeſſion of every battery of conſequence in Guadaloupe, and it was reported they were to march the next day in order to diſlodge the enemy from the mountains. The number of troops landed Capt. Leacraft computes at 6000. Our loſs in this attack he ſays was very trifling, and the only damage he could perceive the ſhips had ſuſtained was in two or three topmaſts. He alſo ſays that ſeveral of the enemy were come down from the mountains, and ſurrendered themſelves priſoners."

Laſt night a ſloop laden with lumber, and to-day a ſhip, ſaid to have 60 hhds. of ſugar on board, arrived here from Guadaloupe.-----They were cut out of Baſſeterre on Tueſday laſt by the privateer Fly, Capt. William Leſly, together with another ſloop in ballaſt, which Capt. Leſly has kept with him at Guadaloupe. The people in the prize report, that the Commodore permitted Capt. Leſly to bring theſe veſſels away, as a reward for the ſervices he did in the fleet as a pilot. They alſo ſay, that about 250 white men, and 3 or 400 negroes, had come in, and ſurrendered themſelves priſoners.

On Thurſday laſt the Nimble Ninepence, a very ſmall privateer boat, belonging to this place, brought in a brig, in ballaſt, which ſhe took off Guadaloupe. This veſſel formerly belonged to the Engliſh, but had been taken by the enemy, and ſold by them to the Dutch, and when the Engliſh fleet appeared off Baſſeterre, puſhed out, in order to run down to St. Euſtatia.

Yeſterday morning arrived here the brig St. Patrick, Capt. Briſcoe; ſhe ſailed from Liverpool for Louiſbourg, but meeting with contrary winds bore away for New-York, and was alſo blown off that coaſt, and obliged to ſtand for the Weſt-Indies, where ſhe arrived, after being 18 weeks at ſea.

The ſnow Elleo, from --------- to this place, was taken the 15th inſtant, but as ſhe could not get into Guadaloupe before Thurſday laſt, it is poſſible ſhe may be retaken.

January 31. The Privateer Fly arrived here on Saturday afternoon from Guadaloupe, under the command of her firſt lieutenant Mr. Cary; capt. Leſly having ſtaid with the fleet: She left Baſſeterre on Friday morning, at which time our troops were in quiet poſſeſſion of the town and the ruins of all the batteries in its neighbourhood; and all the ſhips were at an anchor in Baſſeterre Bay, except three Frigates, which were cruiſing round the iſland, and four men of war, which were left at Martinico, to cruize off St. Pierre's and Fort-Royal.

Mr. Cary ſays he landed with the troops on Martinico; that he had an opportunity of obſerving what paſſed on ſhore; and gives the following account thereof, viz.

About 7000 men were landed near Pointe des Negros, in Martinico, without any interruption from the enemy, and in a very little time had thrown up a good intrenchment, and mounted 9 field pieces on it. Some time after this the enemy, to the amount of 5 or 6000 men, came from towards Fort-Royal, and made a ſhew of attacking our troops; but the firſt fire put them into diſorder, which the Highlanders took the advantage of, by attacking them ſword in hand; and they being ſupported by the reſt of the troops, the enemy fled in very great confuſion, and were purſued ſeveral miles; till at laſt, there was not a Frenchman to be ſeen for ſome miles round. The loſs of the enemy amounted to 3 or 400 men; ours was only about 30 Highlanders, and 10 or 12 belonging to the other regiments.---The troops remained aſhore 24 hours without any further interruption from, or appearance of, the enemy, and at laſt were ordered by the General to re-imbark, for reaſons which Mr. Cary could not gueſs at or learn, either in the army or the fleet.

Capt. Fazakerly, in a letter of marque brig, and capt. Rains, in a ſloop for this place, fell in with a French frigate to leeward of Saba, in the night of the 22d inſtant, but got away from her, after receiving one broadſide.----- Capt. Rains put into St. Euſtatia, and was there the 23d inſtant, when four veſſels, laden with proviſions, &c. and two French privateers, ſailed from thence for Guadaloupe.------N. B. Other accounts from leeward ſay, the proviſion veſſels were met by two Engliſh privateers off Nevis, and obliged to put back to St. Euſtatia.

The Antigallican privateer, belonging to this place, and a brig of 16 guns, belonging to Liverpool, have been taken by the French frigate; ſhe was bound to Old France.

Capt. Richards, of the privateer Lion, left Guadaloupe yeſterday, and arrived here this morning. Capt. Richards ſunk two French privateers at the Hay in Guadaloupe, and deſtroyed the place. He left the troops in quiet poſſeſſion of Baſſeterre, and the country round it; but does not know they had marched to attack the enemy; however, accounts from St. Kitts ſay they had.

Extract of a letter from an officer in the fleet commanded by Commodore Moore.

SIR, Baſſeterre, Guadaloupe, Jan. 25.

"The Briſtol was the firſt ſhip that anchored at Martineco; and that was (by capt. Leſly's orders) within piſtol-ſhot of a battery of two and thirty pounders, which ſhe ſileneed in a few minutes, and hoiſted an Engliſh flag on it, without the loſs of a man. All this was but a feint; for we were intended for this place, which we now have in poſſeſſion. I had the honour of being the third man in the fort, and firſt on the walls: We hoiſted Engliſh colours before ſun-ſet.----Capt. Leſly has been a father to me. He always ſays he muſt be brought within piſtol ſhot, or it will not do. I hope to ſend you a further account in a few days. Captain Schuldham behaved with great courage, and engaged the whole day. The fort has 52 guns; every man behaved well; otherwiſe we ſhould not have come off as we have, and in ſuch great ſpirits."

February 3.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. James King, late Maſter of the Snow Loudoun, bound from Glaſgow to Antigua, dated Martinico, January the 22*d*, 1759.

"I take this opportunity of acquainting you of my misfortune, in being brought in here the 15th inſtant by two privateers. The 13th at night, I fell in with a ſchooner of 8 guns, 10 ſwivels, and 103 men, and beat her off twice. About 2 in the morning fell in with a ſloop of 6 guns, 10 ſwivels, and 75 Men, both of which we kept off till morning; our ſhot being then almoſt expended, and both being ready to board us, I was obliged to ſtrike. On my arrival here I found the iſland inveſted, and they marched us, with all

all the prisoners, immediately out of town, and for four days marched us 20 miles a day through the country, and on the 20th marched us into town again, and confined us in a dungeon, where I now am; our food is bread and water, and that but little of. The Lord knows when we will be relieved. As to any other particulars, I know nothing.

On Thursday last his Majesty's sloop Antigua, Weston Varlo, Esq; commander, brought in a schooner laden with sugar, coffee, &c. and bound to St. Eustatia from Port Louis in Guadaloupe, from whence she sailed under convoy of a French privateer of 12 guns, who made her escape.

Yesterday the privateer ship Britannia, Captain M'Pherson, brought in a sloop which had been taken by the enemy on her passage from London to this place, but was retaken by Captain M'Pherson. All the papers belonging to the sloop, and the Captain, whose Name was Murphy, and all the Hands [except a passenger and a foreigner] were carried off by the enemy. She is laden with oil, vinegar, &c.

Last Night also arrived a brig, laden with sugar, &c. a prize to His Majesty's ship Roebuck: The prize master is not yet come ashore, but he informed a gentleman who spoke with him, that the French had 200 men killed, and 100 taken prisoners, in a skirmish which happened at Guadaloupe on Thursday morning.

Sunday Night last Captain Falconer arrived here from St. Christophers, in 15 Days Passage, by whom we have the following Articles from the Gazettes of that Island.

Basseterre, in St. Christophers, January 27.

The privateer schooner Michael, Joseph Thomas, is arrived at Montserrat with four prizes, which he cut out from Basseterre, in Guadaloupe, viz. a privateer sloop of 12 four pounders; a sloop in ballast; a brig loaded with lumber, belonging to Boston; and a ship in ballast.

On Thursday was brought into the road of Basseterre, by capt. Ross, in the letter of marque snow Stoughton, a ship under Spanish colours, bound from Cadiz. There is reason to suppose that she was destined for Martinico.

Feb. 3. The brig Providence, Clare, from Liverpool for Tortola, was taken the 19th ult. by the Aigrette, a French frigate of 38 guns. The captain of the frigate, after plundering the vessel, returned her to capt. Clare; and she is arrived at Tortola.

Feb. 7. Some gentlemen arrived here yesterday, who sailed from Guadaloupe the day before. They left the troops in very good spirits. It is said, that the most advanced post of the army was about five miles from Basseterre: That the governor of the island, with all the people he could assemble, was intrenched at the Dieudon: That a detachment of the army, commanded by brigadier general Haldane, having attacked a post of very difficult access, it had been carried, with the loss of 22 men killed, and about 40 wounded; but that the French had suffered much more considerably. Lieutenant Plaistow, of Colonel Ross's regiment, and an officer, whose name was M'Lane, are said to be among the killed in this affair.

The same day were sent into the road of Basseterre, two French sloops. One of them is loaded with sugar, &c. and bound from Martinico for France; the other was bound from Eustatia for Martinico, with provisions. They are both prizes to the Earl of Loudoun, Capt. Wallace; and the Ranger, Capt. Rowan.

On Monday was sent in by his Majesty's ship Amazon, Capt. Norton, a ship loaded with sugar, &c. and taken at Basseterre, in Guadaloupe.

St. Jago de la Vega, in Jamaica, December 23.

By Letters from Westmoreland an Account is received, that two French Privateers have cruized several Days past on the Coast, and on Saturday or Sunday last, having landed some Men at the Hope, plundered a Store there, but met with nothing of any great Value. The Peregrine Sloop is ordered out in quest of them.

Port-Royal, Dec. 15. Arrived from a cruize, his majesty's ship Enterprize, Capt. Innes, and brought in a large Dutch French prize ship. Also a French prize schooner, taken by the Thurloe privateer, Captain Mantle.

Dec. 19. Arrived a Danish prize sloop, taken by his majesty's ships Augusta and Dreadnought, laden with French produce.

Kingston. Yesterday arrived at Port-Royal, the private snow of war Mercury, Capt. Joseph Connel, of this port, and brought in with her a Spanish sloop, bound from Cora to Hispaniola, laden with Mules and Sarsaparilla, which he took going into Cape-Francois.

Port-Royal, Dec. 21. Arrived from a cruize, his majesty's ship Seaford, and brought in a French privateer sloop of ten carriage, and 16 swivel guns, and sixty men.

St. Jago de la Vega, Jan. 20. On Sunday last was brought in a Danish sloop, laden with wine, flour, sailcloth, &c. This vessel was bound to Martinico, where upon her arrival she found the English fleet had blocked up the harbour, and therefore bore away for Hispaniola, where also she found the Cape closely guarded by three of our men of war, and fifteen privateers, one of which latter, called the Sturdy Beggar, belonging to the northward, espying her, gave her chase, and took her.

Port-Royal, Jan. 16. Arrived, a French sloop, and a Dutch schooner, both prizes, taken by the Viper privateer of this port.

Kingston, February 1. Last night about eight o'clock the sloop Adventure, capt. Denap, was taken off Cow bay, by a small schooner privateer with 35 hands, who has been skulking in shore this week past.

Port-Royal, Jan. 22. Arrived from a cruize, his majesty's sloop Peregrine, capt. Brooks, with a prize brig.

25. Arrived, two English cartels from Porto-Prince; also a Danish schooner, and a French sloop, the former taken by the squadron to windward, the latter by the Whitehill letter of marque, of this port. Also two Dutch sloops, and an English snow, taken going into Hispaniola, by the Adventure private ship of war, of this port.

Charles-Town (in South-Carolina) Feb. 17.

Our last Advices from New-Providence are, that the Prizes formerly sent in there are all condemned: That Captain Braddock had sent in another pretended Dane, and taken several small Craft, which had been ransomed: That the Recovery, Capt. Beak, had sent in a Danish Snow, called the Ufrow Jacoba, and a Dutch Brig, called the Twins, both laden with French Property, which he took in Company with the Cape-Fear Brig Hawk, Capt. Wright; and had also taken a Sloop, which was ransomed for 1200 Pieces of Eight: That the Fleet homeward bound from Cape-Francois, had not sailed 3 Weeks ago, though they had waited for Convoy since the beginning of October last. And that a great Number of English Privateers, with all Admiral Coates's Squadron, were cruizing near the Cape, waiting for the coming out of the said Fleet.

Capt. Codwise, who arrived here lately from Coracoa, informs us, that an Embargo had been laid there on all Vessels without Exception, for two Months; and that it was taken off English Vessels only when he came away.

Exclusive of 4 Men of War, 1 Privateer Brig, a Snow likely to be condemned as unfit for further Service, and the Dutch Snow brought in here by the Nassau, Capt. Pilkington, whose Fate is not yet determined; there are 70 Sea-Vessels now in this Harbour, viz. 31 Ships, 19 Snows, 1 Ketch, 6 Brigantines, 3 Schooners, and 10 Sloops.

LONDON.

October 26. In some Accounts of the late desperate Skirmish at the Bay of St. Cas, it is observed, that many of our Forces were killed and wounded in the Boats in coming off. Several, it is said, were also killed in the Boats at Cape Breton before our Troops could gain the Shore. Such Misfortunes might be prevented for the future by using Mantelets of the following Construction: Let some Boards of a convenient Length, and about an Inch in Thickness, be joined together to make a Frame three or four Feet broad: Cover the Outside of this with Tin-Plates, and over this lay a Stratum of Quires of Brown Paper, which ought also to be covered with Tin Plates, the Nails being driven through all the three Folds into the Boards. These Mantelets might be fastened to the Edge of the Boat in the same Manner as the Rudder of small Boats is hung to the Stern-post; so that they could be put on or taken off with the greatest Ease and Dispatch. On the Inside they might have several Handles, by which the Soldiers in the Boat might hold them upright. It would be no Inconveniency if the whole Boat were surrounded with them, as Spaces might be left on their lower Edge not to interrupt the playing of the Oars, and several Spying-Holes might be cut through them, by which the Sailors might see to guide the Boat; and when it were proper for the Men to land, the Mantelets could all be unhinged in a Moment, and laid in the Bottom of the Boat.

There are divers Accounts from English Gentlemen of Credit in France, which represent the Usage of the poor Prisoners there as intolerable; one, in particular, remarks, that the Number that has perished by the Wretchedness of their Condition in that Country, exceeds that of the Killed by Sea and Land during the present War.

November 30.

By a gentleman who came to town on Sunday night from Dartmouth, at which place he landed out of a cartel ship from France, where he had been a prisoner since February last, we have the following account: That on the landing of our troops near St. Maloe's, in the expedition under his Grace the Duke of Marlborough, there were then one thousand six hundred English prisoners in the castle of Dinant, which is but 15 miles from the place of our landing. They were immediately locked up in different rooms; and such was the consternation of the people in the town, that all the valuable effects were moved off, and the Governor of the castle was so sure of our troops coming to rescue the prisoners, that he had drawn up terms of capitulation. Under the pleasing hope of immediate relief, they remained till ten o'clock on the Wednesday night, when a party of 50 dragoons, who came down the country, with the assistance of 800 militia, armed with scythes and pitchforks, conveyed them 15 leagues higher up the country to a place called Jocelin. As our troops landed on the Sunday, and they were suffered to remain at Dinant till the Wednesday night, it should seem as if there was time enough to effect their deliverance, [if they had known the Governor's fears they possibly might] which would have saved the lives of many brave fellows; for at Jocelin no less than seven or eight died of a day, for want of proper attendance: whereas at Dinant, being carefully looked after, they were kept in good health; which might be partly owing to the charitable legacy left by the widow of an officer in the Irish Brigades, who by her will appointed a penny a day, French money, for tobacco, to be paid to every English prisoner who should happen to be confined in that castle.

December 12.

Extract of a letter from Hanover, Nov. 30.

"The winter-quarters for our troops and those of our allies are settled in the following manner.

"In Munster, where prince Ferdinand of Brunswick has fixed his head-quarters, there are four battalions of English troops, two of Hanoverian guards, with two squadrons of body-guards, and the horse-grenadiers.

"In Rheinen there is one English battalion, and another at Steinhorst.

"At Wabrendorff, a battalion of Saxe-Gotha; and a battalion of the regiment of Rheden, distributed at Tellegte, Walbeck, and Albersloh.

"In the bishoprick of Paderborn, four battalions of Brunswick troops, ten battalions of Hessians, and one of Buckebourg, with seven squadrons of English cavalry, eight of Hessian, four of Hanoverian, and 13 of Prussian cavalry. Ten general officers are appointed to the command of this body of troops.

"Those which are posted in the bishoprick of Osnabrug, and along the Ems, consist of nine battalions and 18 squadrons of Hanoverians, with nine squadrons of English cavalry, under the command of seven general officers.

"In the bishoprick of Hildesheim, one battalion of fusileers, and two squadrons of the regiment of Dachenhausen, dragoons.

"At Lipstadt, two battalions of Hanoverians, four of Hessians, some thousand militia, and the light-troops, under General Hardenberg.

"Besides all these, the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick, who has under him four other general officers, forms a line with eight battalions and ten squadrons of Hanoverians, two battalions of Wolfenbuttlers, and Scheiter's corps of hunters. These troops are posted in such a manner, that they may assemble in a very little time, in case circumstances should require it.

"In the country of Hesse, under the command of the Prince of Isenbourg, and five other general officers, there are four battalions of Hanoverians and Hessians, and one of Brunswick, with seven squadrons of Hessian cavalry, and some companies of hussars and hunters."

It is reported there is to be a new board of commissioners in Ireland, which is to be called the board of works: They are to inspect in turns the different fortifications, publick buildings, and publick works of all sorts, and constantly report their condition to the government. It is to consist of seven, with proper officers under them; and each commissioner to have a salary of 600 l. per annum. The following gentlemen are talked of to compose the first board, viz. the Right Hon. the Lord Viscount Newton, the Right Hon. William Fortescue, the Engineer General, John Magill, ------- Sanford, John M'Naghten, and Henry Lyons, Esqrs.

We hear that the honourable House of Commons have addressed his majesty, that he will be pleased to order the payment of the militia to be regularly issued, upon the footing in which it stands by the bill passed in the last session, until the parliament shall have prepared another bill for the regular payment of the same.

A private letter from Lisbon says, that his most faithful majesty has totally lost the use of one arm, but is otherwise quite recovered.

Extract of a Letter from Antigua, dated January 31.

"We have had the following Account from the Fleet and Army, viz. That the Army was safely landed at Martinico; that the Men of War had destroyed four or five Batteries or Forts, that lay betwixt Fort Royal and St. Pierre's; that all of a sudden the Forces were re-imbarked, and proceeded to Guadaloupe, where the whole Fleet and Army arrived the 23d; that at Nine o' Clock in the Morning they began to fire on the Citadel, Batteries, and Town of Basseterre with great Fury; that the French had behaved bravely for about thirty Hours, but that they were then obliged to abandon the Citadel, Forts and Town, and retire into the Body of the Island; that our Forces were landed without the Loss of a Man; and possessed themselves of all the Fortifications, and Town, where a dreadful Havock ensued by the Fire of the Ships and Bombs. No Men ever behaved better than the Captains, Officers and Men on board the Men of War, they have suffered very little in either Ships or Men, not having lost above 25 Men, and 45 wounded, and have done every Thing that could be expected from them, nay, some Things that could not have been hoped for. The Attempt on the Citadel by Sea was always esteemed impracticable by the French; but to their Amazement they were soon convinced of the contrary, for at Three a Clock in the Afternoon of the 24th, the English Flag was flying; our Land Forces are very healthy, and in great Spirits, and we soon expect to hear of all the Inhabitants surrendering, as I think it is improbable they can hold out above fourteen Days."

In another Letter from Antigua, dated the 5th of February, it is said,

"Our Forces landed at Martinico, made a Feint, and then reimbarked, with the Loss of about 25 Men; they immediately proceeded to Guadaloupe, where they have succeeded hitherto, having taken and destroyed all the Batteries in or about Basseterre, and are now marching into the Country towards a Fortress called the Dieudon, situated on an Eminence, and I make not the least Doubt but the Expedition will be crowned with Success, tho' the French have declared, they will not surrender or capitulate, while they have a Man left. The Defence they have made far surpasses my Expectations."

Extract of a Letter from Captain Richard Tyrrell, to a Gentleman at St. Christophers.

"I take this Opportunity of congratulating you upon the Reduction of the Town and Fortifications of Basseterre, in the Island of Guadaloupe, which were taken by our Men of War on the 23d of January, after an obstinate Resistance. We did not lose any considerable Number of Seamen in the Action, tho' the Ships suffered much in their Hulls, Masts and Rigging. The Grand Fort, which was above the Town, and some Distance from the Water-side, was very large and strong, and mounted with 84 large Pieces of Cannon: The rest of the Batteries were also very strong, and mounted with heavy Cannon; and it is surprizing that ever our Ships could reduce them. The Engineers, belonging to the Army, gave it as their Opinion, that it was impregnable to Ships; but by our worthy Commodore Moore's excellent Disposition of the Ships, and the Bravery of our Officers and Men, they were soon silenced, and beat off, and our Army landed without the Loss of a Man. We shall proceed to the Reduction of the rest of the Island to His Majesty's Obedience, which I hope will soon fall into our Hands; the Importance of which Possession I need not expatiate upon, nor upon the Misery that must ensue on our giving it up; therefore I beg of you, and every Well-wisher, to give all the Assistance in your Power, to the entire reducing and keeping it, until we have Succours; which I am going Express in the Bonetta Sloop to sollicit for; as also to give an Account of our present Success; in which Sollicitation I hope to be assisted by all the Gentlemen in the Island, thro' their Agents. For my Part, I shall make what Interest I can, with all the Zeal that a thorough Knowledge of so valuable an Acquisition to our Country can inspire me with. I pray that you will shew all the Regard in your Power to our excellent Commodore, who next to divine Providence, is the Instrument of our Success. I had not the Honour of being in the Action; I was only an idle Spectator, being becalmed between three and four Leagues off, during the Engagement. What has been done at Martinico, by the good Providence of God and the Wisdom of our brave and worthy Commanding Officer at Sea, turns out to the Glory of His Majesty's Arms. Let us persevere in keeping our Footing, and giving all the Assistance in our Power, and we shall be a flourishing People; for the effecting of which, I will contribute my Mite."

Extract of a Letter from St. Chriſtophers, dated February 7.

"Our laſt News from Guadaloupe does not fully anſwer our Expectations.---It ſeems, by theſe Accounts, that notwithſtanding our Troops poſſeſſed themſelves ſo eaſily of the Town of Baſſeterre, and its Batteries, there is ſtill a great Deal to be done.---The Poſt of Dieudon is almoſt inacceſſible. The Governor, who is there, has been ſummoned to give it up; but he anſwered the General, in very polite Terms, that he was determined to do every Thing in his Power to preſerve the Iſland.---Capt. Tyrrell, of the Buckingham, was to ſail for England, in the Bonetta, ſeveral Days ago, in order to repreſent to the Miniſtry the Importance of this Expedition, and to ſollicit an Augmentation of the Troops.---Upon the whole, every Thing being conſidered, we hope that an Aſſembly of People undiſciplined, and unaccuſtomed to the Hardſhips of War, will not long be able to defend themſelves, even in the moſt inacceſſible Poſts, againſt brave and regular Troops, ſupplied with every Thing neceſſary to further their Operations."

Extract of another Letter from St. Chriſtophers, dated February 14, 1759.

"Our Fleet is ſtill at Guadaloupe, where they have taken the Forts, burnt the Town, and deſtroyed moſt Part of the Country; and as our Troops continue in good Spirits, we are hopeful the whole Iſland will ſoon be obliged to ſurrender, tho' they have hitherto (at the Dieudon) been very obſtinate. Our Privateers continue plundering, and are almoſt every Day bringing in Negroes, Cattle, &c. into all the Iſlands. As to Martinico, Capt. Tyrrell is gone Expreſs to England, in the Bonetta Sloop of War; from whence we ſhall, in a proper Time, expect him with a ſtrong Reinforcement. Mean time the reſt of the French Iſlands, if not intirely ſubdued, will be laid waſte to all Intents and Purpoſes."

Captain Falconer left Sandy-Point the 17th ult. when it was thought the Inhabitants of Guadaloupe could not hold out above five or ſix Days.

Extract from the Votes of the General Aſſembly of the Colony of New-York.

Die Martis, 9 ho. A. M. the 20th February, 1759.

A Meſſage from His Honour the Lieutenant Governor, by Mr. Banyar, Deputy Secretary, which being read, is in the Words following, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

I HAVE now the Pleaſure to acquaint you, that I have received the Commands of our Moſt Gracious King, ever attentive to the Welfare and laſting Proſperity of all His Subjects, relative to the Operations of the approaching Campaign, by Letter, bearing Date the 9th of December, from the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary PITT; ſignifying that His Majeſty, having nothing ſo much at Heart as to improve the great and important Advantages gained laſt Campaign, as well as to repair the Diſappointment at Ticonderoga, and by the moſt vigorous and extenſive Efforts, to avert, by the Bleſſing of God on his Arms, all Dangers which may threaten North-America, from any future Irruptions of the French: And that the King, not doubting that all his faithful and brave Subjects here, will chearfully co-operate with, and ſecond, to the utmoſt, the large Expence and extraordinary Succours ſupplied by Great-Britain for their Preſervation and Defence; and His Majeſty, conſidering that the ſeveral Provinces in particular, from Proximity and Acceſſibility of Situation, more immediately obnoxious to the main Irruptions of the Enemy from Canada, are of themſelves well able to furniſh, at leaſt Twenty Thouſand Men, to join a Body of the Britiſh Forces, for invading Canada, and carrying War into the Heart of the Enemy's Poſſeſſions; and His Majeſty not judging it expedient to limit the Zeal and Ardour of any of his Provinces, by making a Repartition of the Force to be raiſed by each reſpectively, for this moſt important Service: It is His Majeſty's Pleaſure, that I ſhould forthwith uſe my utmoſt Endeavours and Influence with you, to raiſe, with all poſſible Diſpatch, within this Government, as large a Body of Men as you did the laſt Year, and even as many more as the Number of its Inhabitants may allow, to be formed into Regiments, and to hold themſelves in Readineſs as early as may be, to march to the Rendezvous which His Majeſty's Commander in Chief in North-America ſhall appoint, in order to proceed from thence, in Conjunction with a Body of the King's Britiſh Forces, and under the ſupreme Command of His Majeſty's Commander in Chief in America, ſo as to be in a Situation to begin the Operations of the Campaign as ſoon as poſſible, by attempting to make an Irruption into Canada, in ſuch Way, and according to ſuch Circumſtances as His Majeſty's Commander in Chief ſhall judge moſt effectual. And the better to facilitate this important Service, the King is pleaſed to leave it to me, to iſſue Commiſſions to ſuch Gentlemen of this Province as I ſhall judge, from their Weight and Credit with the People, and their Zeal for the publick Service, may be beſt diſpoſed, and able to quicken and effectuate it; the whole Forces, when joined, to be under a due Subordination to His Majeſty's Commander in Chief. And all Officers, as high as Colonels, incluſive, for their Encouragement, are to have Rank according to their ſeveral reſpective Commiſſions agreeable to the Regulations contained in His Majeſty's Warrant of the 30th of December, 1757.

The King is alſo pleaſed to furniſh all the Men ſo raiſed with Arms, Ammunition, and Tents, as well as to order Proviſions to be iſſued to them by His Majeſty's Commiſſaries, in the ſame Proportion and Manner as is done to the reſt of the King's Forces. A ſufficient Train of Artillery will be provided for the Operations of the Campaign. Boats and Veſſels neceſſary for the Tranſportation of the Army on this Expedition, will alſo be provided at the King's Charge. The whole therefore that His Majeſty expects and requires from the ſeveral Provinces, is the levying cloathing, and paying the Men: And on theſe Heads alſo, that no Encouragement may be wanting to this great and ſalutary Attempt, the King is further moſt graciouſly pleaſed, to permit the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Pitt, to acquaint me, that ſtrong Recommendation will be made to Parliament in their Seſſion next Year, to grant a proper Compenſation for ſuch Expences as above, according as the active Vigour and ſtrenuous Efforts of the reſpective Provinces, ſhall juſtly appear to merit.

I am alſo to inform you, that ſimilar Orders are ſent by the ſame Conveyance to New-Hampſhire, Maſſachuſetts Bay, Rhode Iſland, Connecticut, and New-Jerſey. The Southern Governments are alſo directed to raiſe Men in the ſame Manner, to be employed in ſuch offenſive Operations, as the Circumſtances and Situation of the Enemy's Poſts in thoſe Parts, may point out; which it is hoped will oblige them ſo to divide their Attention and Forces, as will render the ſeveral Attempts more eaſy and ſucceſsful.

GENTLEMEN,

This is what I had to lay before you by His Majeſty's Command; and can any Thing animate your Zeal, on this important Occaſion more, than the Conſideration, that the large Expence and extraordinary Succours of your Mother Country, have nothing elſe for their Object, than to avert all Dangers that may threaten you from any future Attempts of the French? You will therefore, with Alacrity, ſecond to the utmoſt, Meaſures calculated for your own Defence and Preſervation.

The King is carrying on a War in Europe, to maintain the Proteſtant Religion, and defend the common Cauſe of Liberty and Independency, in which he is chearfully and vigorouſly ſupported by the united Voice of His People, manifeſted in the Addreſſes of the Lords and Commons. Let the ſame Spirit which actuates them, animate you, that we may proceed with the utmoſt Application and Diſpatch in this urgent and deciſive Criſis. I do therefore moſt earneſtly recommend to you, that you will immediately ſet about this neceſſary Work, and come to ſpeedy and vigorous Reſolutions, that there may be no Delay on our Parts, and that the Forces of this Province may be ready to attend His Majeſty's Commander in Chief, whenever he ſhall begin his Operations.

The Succeſs of His Majeſty's Arms, by the Bleſſing of God, in the Reduction of the ſtrong Fortreſs of Louiſbourg, under the Conduct of his Excellency General AMHERST, I look upon as a happy Preſage, by the ſame divine Bleſſing, of future Succeſs under his Direction: May you then, and the other Northern Colonies, ſo ſtrengthen his Hands, as to enable him to remove the Enemy at ſuch a Diſtance, that we may never hereafter dread their Attempts, or cruel Irruptions.

Gentlemen,

I am ſenſible of your Loyalty and Duty to His Majeſty, and am perſuaded you will give Proofs thereof at this Criſis.

I ſend you a Copy of General AMHERST's Letter to me of the 16th Inſtant.

New-York, Feb. 19, 1759. JAMES DE LANCEY.

Die Mercurii, 9 ho. A. M. the 21ſt February, 1759.

The Houſe (according to Order) reſolved itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, upon his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor's Meſſage of the Nineteenth Inſtant: After ſome Time ſpent therein, Mr. Speaker reſumed the Chair, and Mr. Cruger reported the Reſolutions of the Committee, which he read in his Place, and afterwards delivered in at the Table, and are as follow, viz.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That immediate Proviſion be made for raiſing, paying and cloathing Two Thouſand Six Hundred and Eighty effective Men, Officers included, to act in Conjunction with the Forces of the neighbouring Colonies, and a Body of His Majeſty's regular Troops, for making an Irruption into Canada, in ſuch Manner as His Majeſty's Commander in Chief ſhall judge moſt effectual, being the full Quota of this Colony, according to the Number of its Inhabitants, in Proportion to the Number of Inhabitants of the neighbouring Colonies, for forming an Army of Twenty Thouſand Men, excluſive of His Majeſty's regular Troops.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, that there be allowed to each able-bodied Man entering voluntarily into the ſaid Service, the Sum of Fifteen Pounds, as a Gratuity for his voluntary Enliſtment.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, that there be allowed to each Officer, properly authorized to inliſt Men, the Sum of Twenty Shillings for each able-bodied Volunteer he ſhall inliſt into the ſaid Service,

And the ſaid Reſolutions being read a ſecond Time, were agreed to by the Houſe.

The Houſe adjourned till Three a Clock.

3 ho. P. M.

The Houſe reſolved itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, upon his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor's Meſſage of the 19th Inſtant: After ſome Time ſpent therein, Mr. Speaker reſumed the Chair, and Mr. Cruger reported the Reſolutions of the Committee, which he read in his Place, and afterwards delivered in at the Table, and are as follow, viz.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That for levying, paying and cloathing Two Thouſand Six Hundred and Eighty effective Men, to act in Conjunction with the Forces of the neighbouring Colonies, and a Body of His Majeſty's regular Troops, for making an Irruption into Canada, there be allowed the Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the ſaid Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds be raiſed by a Tax on all Eſtates real and perſonal within this Colony, in nine Years, to commence this preſent Year, One Thouſand Seven Hundred and Fifty-nine; the Committee conceiving it impracticable to raiſe it in a leſs Time, by Reaſon of the great and heavy Burden of Taxes now laying on this Colony.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That for making immediate Payment for the aforeſaid Service, Bills of Credit, to the Amount of the aforeſaid Sum of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, be emitted on the Credit of the aforeſaid Tax, to be ſunk and cancelled in nine Years, to wit, Twelve Thouſand Pounds in this preſent Year One Thouſand Seven Hundred and Fifty-nine, and Eleven Thouſand Pounds in each of the eight ſucceeding Years.

And the aforeſaid Reſolutions being read a ſecond Time, were agreed to by the Houſe.

Ordered, That a Bill be brought in purſuant to the ſaid Reſolutions, and to the Reſolutions of this Houſe of this Morning; and that Capt. Livingſton, and Col. Seaman, prepare and bring in the ſame.

[A Bill was accordingly brought in, intituled, 'An Act 'for raiſing a Supply of One Hundred Thouſand Pounds, 'for levying, paying, and cloathing, Two thouſand ſix 'hundred and eighty effective Men, Officers included, for 'forming, with the Forces of the neighbouring Colonies, 'an Army of Twenty thouſand Men, to invade, in Con- 'junction with a Body of His Majeſty's regular Troops, 'the French Poſſeſſions in Canada; for emitting Bills of 'Credit for the like Sum; and for ſinking and cancelling 'the ſaid Bills in ſhort Periods.']

NEW-YORK, March 5.

We hear the aforementioned Bill is now depending before His Honour the Lieutenant Governor, in Council, and may be paſſed in a Day or two.

His Majeſty's Ship Nightingale, bound hence to South Carolina, in going down to the Hook, ſtruck on the Middle Ground, and received ſo much Damage in her Stern Poſt, as obliged her to come up on Tueſday laſt to refit.

Since our laſt his Majeſty's Ship, the Roſe, left this Port for England, on board of whom went Paſſenger Brigadier General Provoſt.

Extract of a Letter from on board the Privateer Brig, Earl of Loudoun, Capt. Wallace, dated St. Chriſtopher's, January 13, 1759.

" The 10th Inſtant, at 9 at Night, we fell in with a Sloop Privateer of 12 Guns, with whom we changed nine Broadſides. Monſieur, after receiving the firſt Broadſide, ſtrove to get away, but having the Heels of him, we ſtaid him longer than he was inclined; he then put before the Wind, which occaſioned us to hoiſt our ſteering Sails, to come up with him, when he found we could eaſily catch him, he hawled down his Colours, and lowered his Sails, but our ſteering Sails getting foul, we could not brace the Yards up, which he perceiving, fired another Broadſide, hawled his Wind, and got clear off. The next Day, in the Afternoon, we took a ſmall Schooner; She had 6 Swivel Guns in Carriages, and 6 in Stocks, with 30 Men. I muſt now inform you, of one of the moſt diſmal Sights I ever ſaw at Sea, and probably few ever ſaw the like, attended with leſs Damage: A Man belonging to the Round-top, had carried a Match up, unknown to any one, in a Kan, which took Fire, burnt the Foremaſt, Fore-top-maſt, Top-gallant-maſt, and their Sails, with the Bowſprit, and all the Sails from the Main-maſt forward: We happily extinguiſhed the Fire about 3 o'Clock in the Morning, and arrived ſafe in this Place, where we are refitting; and will ſail at furtheſt in eight Days. Capt. Cook is Captain of a Privateer Brig, and is very ſucceſsful."

Thurſday Evening arrived here the Letter of Marque Sloop Rachel, Capt. Daniel Seymour, in 14 Days from St. Croix, by whom we are informed, That the Oliver Cromwell Privateer, Capt. Read, of Antigua, had taken a Load of Sugar, and filled his Deck with Negroes from off Guadaloupe: That Capt. W. Amory, in another Privateer from the ſame Port, had taken about 100 more; and that one in particular of the ſaid Negroes, offered Capt. Amory, if he would condeſcend to let him go on Shore, to bring him as many more as his Veſſel would hold, to which Capt. Amory conſented, and he was accordingly put on Shore; that in a ſhort Time after a great Number appeared at the Water's Edge; but that one Capt. Stevens, in a Privateer from St. Kitt's (not knowing Capt. Amory's Intrigue) fired on them, on which they fled, and did not return:---- That a Rhode-Iſland Privateer had cut out two or three Veſſels from Guadaloupe, and carried them off.

Laſt Night the Schooner Gideon, Capt. Crew, arrived here in 19 Days from Monti-Chriſto, by whom we are informed, That the Governor of Monti-Chriſto had wrote to the Governor of Cape-Francois, for to know the Meaning of the French Frigate's (which was lately mentioned in this Paper) entering the Port of Monti-Chriſto, and violating the Neutrality ſubſiſting between Great-Britain and Spain, by burning and deſtroying ſundry Engliſh Merchant Veſſels lying there; and that the Governor of the Mount had received for Anſwer, That it was done quite contrary to the Orders given him; for that the Captain of the Frigate had only Orders to deſtroy ſuch private Veſſels of War, as he might find there; that he had aſſured the Spaniſh Governor he would acquaint his Maſter of it; and did not doubt but what the Captain of the Frigate would be broke, for not acting according and agreeable to his Inſtructions.---It is hoped Reſtitution will be made to Individuals that have ſuffered in the late Cataſtrophe at Monti-Chriſto.

Capt. Bennet, in a Privateer of Boſton, has taken a ſmall French Privateer, to the Windward of Antigua.

Portſmouth, New-Hampſhire, February 16.

A Perſon who came to this Town laſt Wedneſday, and has been a Priſoner in Canada above four Years, gives the following Account, viz. That in Auguſt 1754, as himſelf and another Man were in a Field at Stephen's Town, in this Province, making Hay, they were taken by 17 Indians, together with two more Men, one of whom, and a Woman, they killed; this Perſon and the other two were carried to Canada, and there ſold Servants to the French. He returned from Canada with Col. Schuyler. As the Service aſſigned him was in Montreal, he had an Opportunity of knowing and hearing many Things relative to the State and Condition of Canada. The City of Montreal is enclоſed with a Wall about 15 Feet high, and on the Eaſt Side is a Hill where 28 Cannon are mounted, which is all he could learn they had to defend it. By a Gentleman of Montreal, who well knew the State of the Country, he was informed, that in all Canada they could not raiſe above 25,000 Men, Regulars included: Wheat was ſold for Ten Dollars per Buſhel, and ſcarcely to be had for that; a Pound of Beef one Piſtareen, Pork one and a half; a Sheep from 30 to 40 Piſtareens: In the City of Montreal only, between four and five Hundred Horſes were killed laſt Winter, for the Inhabitants to ſubſiſt on; notwithſtanding he was credibly informed by the French, that great Numbers of People died at Quebeck for Want of Proviſions.

NEW-HAVEN, February 24.

We have the following Account of an Affair that lately happened at Stanford. One M'Ginnis a Soldier, of the Regulars, being in Drink, ſome young Men of the Place were making their Diverſion of him, whereat being enraged, they ran from him, and it being in the Night got out of his Sight; he purſued them, and thinking they were gone into the Houſe of one Seeley, came to the Door at the Inſtant Seeley happened to come out; M'Ginnis immediately aſſaulted him, and abuſed him in a terrible Manner, breaking three of his Ribs. For this M'Ginnis (being brought before the Authority, and not being able to get Bail) was committed to Fairfield Goal; which, with the Aſſiſtance of ſome other ſoldiers, he broke on the 9th Inſtant, and eſcaped;---often threatning Revenge againſt Seeley; who hearing of it, kept himſelf armed, with a Cutlas and a loaded Gun in the Shop where he worked. On Saturday the 10th Inſtant, M'Ginnis with a Number of Soldiers went towards Seeley's Houſe; his Children being at Play, ſeeing them in a Body, going towards their Father's Houſe, cryed out, that the Soldiers were going to kill their Daddy; a Brother of Seeley's being in the Field, heard of his Brother's Danger, and ran to tell him, ſhutting the Shop Door, before the Soldiers arrived, and endeavoured to conceal themſelves. But the Soldiers by ſome Means knowing they were in the Shop, M'Ginnis got a Hoe and beat open the Door, when Seeley preſenting his Gun cocked, told them to keep off, ſolemnly declaring he would ſhoot the firſt Man that entered; he and his Brother immediately ſhut the Door again, and nailed it, repeating his Threatning, if they offered to enter again; but they again beat open the Door;--he preſented his Gun, aſſuring the firſt Man that entered, of Death, and declaring himſelf guiltleſs of the Blood he might ſhed in his own Defence, which he often repeated in the moſt ſolemn Manner; but one Man, who was armed with a Tomhawk, kept approaching, and made a Motion to ruſh in, making one Step into the Door, when Seeley diſcharged his Piece at him, and mortally wounded him in the Bowels, (of which Wound, on Monday, he died, having declared, that he juſtly deſerved his Fate) Seeley then again faſtened the Door, but the Soldiers threatened that if he did not immediately ſurrender himſelf, they would burn the Houſe over him. His Brother firſt went out, whom ſeveral of them aſſaulted, and very much abuſed, in the Scuffle one of them was thrown into a Well, but not much hurt; Seeley at length thought proper to ſurrender himſelf; they carried him to the Guard-Houſe, from whence the Magiſtrates, hearing of the Affair, ſent for him, and upon his Confeſſion committed him to Goal for Trial, where he ſtill remains. The Conduct of Seeley ſeems to meet with general Approbation, except in his ſurrendering himſelf at laſt, into the Hands of ſuch.---

ANNAPOLIS, February 15.

We hear of an unhappy Affair, which happened on the 6th Inſtant, in the upper Part of Worceſter County, near the Confines of Suſſex County, in Pennſylvania Government: Mr. William Outten, one of the Sub-Sheriffs of Worceſter, was ſhot thro' the Body by one John Willie, who, it is ſaid, refuſed to pay his Taxes in Maryland. The Accounts of this Matter are differently related; but this is certain, that Mr. Outten was ſhot Dead on the Spot. Willie ſurrendered himſelf immediately to the Authority in Suſſex County, and is there confined in Goal.

BOSTON, March 5.

We have a Report in Town, ſaid to be brought by a Veſſel which arrived here laſt Friday in 70 Days from Teneriffe, That Commodore Keppel, who ſailed from England in November laſt, with ſeveral Men of War, and a Number of Tranſports with Troops on board, bound on an Expedition againſt the French Settlements on the Coaſt of Africa, on his Paſſage thither on the Coaſt of Barbary, met with a moſt violent Storm, in which the whole Fleet ſuffered greatly, and the Litchfield Man of War of 50 Guns, and two of the Tranſports with Soldiers, were forced on Shore, and every Soul periſhed: After the Storm the Commodore with the Remainder of the Fleet was obliged to put back to Madeira to refit. A few Days after he got in, 9 Sail of French Men of War of the Line, with a Number of Tranſports, paſſed by that Place, bound as 'twas thought for the Coaſt of Africa. 'Tis ſaid the above News comes alſo by the Way of Liſbon.

We hear there is a Letter in Town from Liſbon, which gives an Account that ten of the Nobillity of the firſt Rank are apprehended and confined, on a violent Suſpicion of being concerned in the late Attempt to murder the King of Portugal.

Since our laſt ſeveral Veſſels arrived here in about nine Days from Halifax, by whom we learn, that the Men of War were nigh fitted, in order to ſail on the ſhorteſt Notice. Proviſions at Halifax were very plenty, upwards of nineteen Hundred Quarters of freſh Beef (beſides other Things) having been brought to that Market in leſs than a Fortnight. Col. Monckton was to ſail in a few Days for this Place.

Thurſday laſt a Party of the Royal Regiment of Artillery marched out of Town, for Albany.

Extract of a Letter from Halifax, February 17.

"This Day arrived here the Ship Maxwell, Capt. Barnes, from England: He came out with the Arundel Man of War, and has been on the Coaſt for ſeveral Weeks paſt, loſt moſt of her Maſts, and in the late Storm loſt four Men. As ſoon as the Admiral heard of her being near, he diſpatched a Sloop with Men, Proviſions, &c. to aſſiſt the poor diſtreſſed Ship, by which Means ſhe arrived ſafe. She is loaded with Coals for the Garriſon of Louiſbourg."

NEW-YORK, March 12.

Friday laſt Capt. Hervey arrived here from St. Kitts, but laſt from St. Martins, in 21 Days: A few Days before he ſailed from thence, a French Sloop put in there, with a Family or two on board, that eſcaped from Guadaloupe. The Captain of the Sloop acknowledged that every Fort and Battery on the Iſland was in Poſſeſſion of the Engliſh, and that Numbers of the Inhabitants were every Day delivering themſelves up.

Saturday Night laſt were ſent in here, by the Captains Miller, Lilley and Taylor, of this Port, and Capt. Wright, of Cape-Fear, the Ship Grand-Joſeph, of and for St. Maloes, from Cape-Francois, Monſ. Trabaud, Maſter, of 14 Guns, and 38 Men; and the Ship Eagle, of and for Nantz from Cape-Francois alſo, Monſ. Roſin, Maſter, of 18 Guns, and 50 Men: They were both taken the 19th of February, in Lat. 24, 32, Long. 71, 45. The above Privateers, at the ſame time, took the Ship Dolphin, of and for Nantz, Monſ. Dumain, Maſter, but ſhe is not yet arrived, having parted from the reſt about 8 Days ſince.

The above-mentioned Ships ſailed from the Cape the 12th of February, in Company with 19 others, under Convoy of a Ship of 74 Guns, and a Frigate of 36, both deep loaded with Indigo, but were ſoon left to ſhift for themſelves.

The Captains Troup, Donaldſon and Dale, all in Privateers of this Port, with a Ship, Name unknown, have taken a large Dutch Ship out of the Fleet, but ſhe is not yet arrived.

The Priſoners ſay, That before they fell in with the Privateers that took them, they were chaced by four Ships and a Snow, but that they got clear of them.

They engaged our Privateers very ſmartly, and did all that could be expected from Ships in their Situation. They killed one Man, and wounded 7, on board the Hercules, Capt. Miller. They are all loaded with Sugar and Coffee, and a Trifle of Indigo.

Yeſterday Evening was ſent in, by the Sturdy Beggar, Captain Troup, of this Port, a French Snow, loaded with Sugars, Coffee, and Indigo, from the Cape for Old France: He took her alone the 21ſt of February, and is one of the Fleet above mentioned. Capt. Troup was chaced a whole Day by the Frigate that was Part of the Convoy to the Fleet, but outſailed her, and got clear. She mounted 30 Twelve Pounders on one Deck, and carried 300 Men.

The ſame Evening a Snow, Part of the Cape Fleet alſo, was ſent in by the Royal Heſter, Capt. Dale, loaded with Sugar, Coffee and Indigo.

When the Fleet left the Cape, it was not determined whether Monſieur Chateleau ſhould load for France, or be ſent to cruize on our Coaſt.

We hear that a Brig from this Port, bound to the Mount, and the Snow Mary, Capt. Tucker, from hence for London, have both received conſiderable Damage on the Rocks, at Bermuda.

The Engliſh Men of War that cruized off Cape Francois for ſome Months paſt, run down to Jamaica, but a few Days before the Fleet puſhed out.

Capt. Joſias Smith, in a Sloop for Jamaica from this Port, was taken by a French Privateer, and carried into Port au Prince; and in going down to Jamaica in a Flag of Truce, was taken on board an Engliſh Man of War.

Captain Lawrence, in a Sloop of this Port alſo, was taken by a French Privateer, and carried into Port au Prince likewiſe, but is come home by Way of Philadelphia.

On Friday, the ſecond Inſtant, the General Aſſembly of the Province of New-Jerſey came to the following Reſolutions.

Reſolved, That One Thouſand Men be raiſed, to act in Conjunction with His Majeſty's Regular Forces, the enſuing Campaign: And that the ſaid Number of Men ſhall conſiſt of Volunteers only.

Reſolved, That for an Encouragement to the ſaid Volunteers to enter into the ſaid Service, there be allowed a Bounty of £ 12 to each.

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.

On Sunday laſt died, of a tedious Illneſs, JOHN FORBES, Eſq; in the Forty-ninth Year of his Age, Son to--------Forbes, of Petincrief, Eſq; in the Shire of Fife, in Scotland, Brigadier General, Colonel of the Seventeenth Regiment of Foot, and Commander of His MAJESTY's Troops in the Southern Provinces of North-America; a Gentleman generally known and eſteemed, and moſt ſincerely and univerſally regretted.

In his younger Days he was bred to the Profeſſion of Phyſic, but early ambitious of the Military Character, he purchaſed into the Regiment of Scots Grey Dragoons, where, by repeated Purchaſes, and faithful Services, he arrived to the Rank of Lieutenant-Colonel.

His ſuperior Abilities ſoon recommended him to the Protection of General CAMPBELL, the Earl of STAIR, Duke of BEDFORD, Lord LIGONIER, and other diſtinguiſhed Characters in the Army; with ſome of them he ſerved as an Aid de Camp, and with the reſt in the Familiarity of a Family Man.

During the laſt War he had the Honour to be employed in the Character of Quarter-Maſter-General to the Army under His Royal Highneſs The DUKE; which Duty he diſcharged with Accuracy, Dignity, and Diſpatch.

His Services in America are well known. By a ſteady Purſuit of well concerted Meaſures, in Defiance of Diſeaſe, and numberleſs Obſtructions, he brought to a happy Iſſue a moſt extraordinary Campaign, and made a willing Sacrifice of his own Life to what he valued more, the Intereſt of his KING and COUNTRY.

As a Man he was juſt, and without Prejudices; brave, without Oſtentation; uncommonly warm in his Friendſhip, and incapable of Flattery; acquainted with the World and Mankind; he was well bred, but abſolutely impatient of Formality and Affectation.

Eminently poſſeſſed of the ſociable Virtues, he indulged a chearful Gratification; but quick in his Senſe of Honour and Duty, ſo mixed the agreeable Gentleman and Man of Buſineſs together, as to ſhine alike (tho' truly uncommon) in both Characters, without the Giddineſs ſometimes attendant on the one, or the Sourneſs of the other.

As an Officer, he was quick to diſcern uſeful Men, and uſeful Meaſures, generally ſeeing both at firſt View, according to their real Qualities; ſteady in his Meaſures, but open to Information and Council; in Command he had Dignity, without Superciliouſneſs, and tho' perfectly Maſter of the Forms, never heſitated to drop them, when the Spirit, and more eſſential Parts of the Service, required it.

Yeſterday he was interred in the Chancel of Chriſt Church, in this City. The Form and Order of March at his Funeral, was as follows,

I. The Pioneers.

II. The Seventeenth Regiment, and two Companies of Colonel Montgomery's Regiment; the Colours with Crapes; the Drums covered with black; and the Officers with Crapes on their Arms.

III. Two Pieces of Cannon, with the Commanding Officer of Artillery.

IV. The Engineers.

V. The Staff.

VI. The Servants, in Mourning, uncovered, two and two.

VII. A led Horſe, covered with black, conducted by a Groom.

VIII. The Surgeons.

IX. The Phyſicians.

X. The Clergy, and Chaplains of the Army.

XI. The Corpſe, and the Pall held by ſix Field Officers.

XII. The Mourners.

XIII. The Governor; the Council; the Speaker and Members of Aſſembly; the Judges; the Magiſtrates and Gentlemen of the Province and City, two and two.

XIV. The Officers from the different Garriſons, two and two.

N. B. The Minute Guns were fired from the Time the Corpſe was brought out until the Interment was over; and the whole ended by a triple Diſcharge of the Small-Arms."

In ASSEMBLY, Die Martis 13tio Martii, 11 Ho. A. M. Reſolved,

THAT as the Governor has not been pleaſed to give any Redreſs to, or even take Notice of an Aggrievance complained of in the Addreſs lately preſented to him by the Aſſembly, under which the Inhabitants of Cheſter County have long ſuffered, from his Continuance of William Moore in Commiſſion as a Magiſtrate amongſt them; the Houſe will, at ſome more convenient Time, remonſtrate to his Honour on ſo manifeſt a Delay of that Juſtice and Protection which he has Power to afford, and undoubtedly owes to the oppreſſed Inhabitants of the ſaid County.

In ASSEMBLY, Die Mercurii 14to Martii, 11 Ho. A. M. Ordered,

That the Reſolve of Yeſterday, relating to William Moore, Eſq; of Cheſter County, together with this Order, be immediately publiſhed in the Pennſylvania Gazette, and certified by the Clerk of the Houſe.

True Extracts from the Journals,
CHARLES MOORE, Clerk of Aſſembly.

NUMB. 1578.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtick.

By the General Wall Packet, Captain Lutwyche, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, in 51 Days Paſſage, we have the following Particulars, viz.

From the Monthly Packet of Intelligence for December.

COPENHAGEN.

BY letters from Stockholm, of the firſt of December, we hear, that general Hamilton has not only thrown up the command of the Swediſh army, but alſo all his other military employments. The command of that army devolves of courſe upon M. de Lantinghauſen, who, it is probable, may not chooſe to continue in it.

Orders are ſent to Gottenberg for fitting out two frigates at that port, for the protection of their trade againſt ſome Pruſſian privateers, which, it is ſaid, have been equipped at Embden, to cruize upon their ſhips. This latter circumſtance has given great alarm and uneaſineſs to the Swediſh merchants.

Dantzick. The Ruſſians attribute their ill ſucceſs at the ſiege of Colberg partly to the behaviour of our regency; for having no port between Konigſberg and Pomerania, they could not get proviſions for the ſubſiſtence of their troops, ſo as to enable them to carry on their deſigns. In order to remedy an inconvenience ſo prejudicial to their operations, the Ruſſian reſident has again ſolicited that general Fermor may be permitted to make uſe of this town as a place of arms, under a guard of ſome thouſands of his troops. This propoſition being directly contrary to the ſyſtem of neutrality, which we have hitherto ſo religiouſly obſerved, our regency refuſed to comply with it, and at the ſame time ſent letters to the king of Denmark, and the ſtates general, to requeſt their good offices, in order to prevail with the empreſs of Ruſſia not to inſiſt any longer upon an article which ſo greatly affects the rights and priviledges of this place, whereby we are exempted from admitting any foreign troops within our walls. As we have already experienced the good effects of the repreſentations of theſe two powers in our favour, we hope they will not be ineffectual this time. In the mean time the guards upon the advanced poſts are doubled, and ſome of the ſluices are opened, to prevent the approach of the Ruſſians.

Berlin. The king, who, at all times, and in particular during the courſe of the preſent war, has ever had the good and advantage of his ſubjects chiefly at heart, has been ſenſibly touched with the loſſes which ſome of them have ſuffered by the exactions of the Ruſſian and Swediſh Armies. And as his majeſty is not content only to hear of their misfortunes, he is reſolved to give them all poſſible ſuccour. Accordingly he has, in the firſt place, ordered that a ſum of 40,000 crowns be taken from his own private purſe, to purchaſe corn for the inhabitants of the New Marche of Brandebourg. Secondly, that 200,000 rixdollars, from the ſame fund, be paid to the magiſtrates and citizens of Cuſtrin, and that they be furniſhed with the materials for repairing their city, which has been almoſt ruined by the ſiege it ſuſtained from the Ruſſians. Thirdly, that the ſubjects of Pruſſian Pomerania ſhall alſo receive a gratuity of 100,000 crowns; and finally, that all the countries above mentioned be exempted from paying any taxes or impoſitions for two years to come.

Prague. The conſiderations which prevailed upon count Daun to deſiſt from his deſign upon Dreſden, were the affecting repreſentations which were made to him by the royal and electoral family, on account of the preparations which count Schmettau was making to deſtroy the city, rather than ſurrender it. With this view he had cauſed bags of gunpowder to be put into moſt of the houſes, without even excepting the electoral caſtle.

Vienna. While our troops are repoſing in their winter quarters, the officers are very aſſiduous in recruiting their regiments, and find men enough for that purpoſe, without much trouble. Beſides, they have in fact no great vacancies to fill up, things being very different in that reſpect from what they were laſt year. After the battle of Liſſa we had hardly any army left, whereas at the end of this campaign we have as many troops remaining as are intended to be employed next ſpring. The world may very well ſee how it happened, that the enemy was not driven out of Saxony the middle of November: We had forces ſufficient to have done it, if the enemy had made uſe of no other means of defence but ſuch as are authoriſed by the laws of war; but their barbarity furniſhed them with expedients, which humanity would not permit us to have recourſe to. We are very curious to ſee what meaſures will be taken by this court next campaign, to hinder them from reaping further fruits of their hoſtilities, ſo fatal to mankind. Marſhal Daun is expected the 7th of December to ſettle the plan for that purpoſe. An account has been taken of the number of inhabitants in this city, from whence we infer, that a poll-tax is going to take place.

Hamburgh. We are under great amazement here at the news we have from ſeveral places. His Pruſſian majeſty will have a vaſt army the next campaign. Saxony is to furniſh 30,000, Brandenburgh and Magdeburg as many, Sileſia 40,000, Anhalt Cothen 5000, and Anhalt Zerbſt 3000. It is believed prince Ferdinand of Brunſwick will take the ſame method. We are told that he has taxed the elector of Cologn's dominions at 700,000 rixdollars, to be paid in five terms, and propoſes to compleat his army to 80,000 men.

Ratiſbon. On the 20th of November the directory of Mentz carried to the dictature of the empire, a long memorial of his Britannick majeſty, in quality of elector of Hanover; in which is contained a very clear and circumſtantial recapitulation of all the ſervices which in quality of elector he has rendered to the houſe of Auſtria; and alſo a ſuccinct detail of the meaſures he has been obliged to take for the ſecurity of his dominions, and of the motives which induced him to take thoſe meaſures; concluding with a requeſt to the ſtates of the empire, to interpoſe their good offices for annulling the decree of the aulic council. There is annexed to this repreſentation a ſtate of the loſſes ſuſtained by the inhabitants of his majeſty's electoral dominions, from the month of July, 1757, to laſt March, which amount to five millions of German florins. Notwithſtanding the reaſons contained in this weighty memorial, the Imperial letters avocatory have been already fixed at Nuremburg, and, it is ſaid, will in like manner be affixed here: And it is alſo aſſerted, that the count de Raab, their Imperial majeſties miniſter to the circle of Lower Saxony, will ſpeedily notify to the regency of Hanover, the procedures by which their elector is put under the ban of the empire.

Paris. By his majeſty's ordinance for regulating the gardes de cotes in the province of Guyenne, it is ordered, that the dragoons allotted for that ſervice ſhall conſiſt of eighteen companies, of 150 men each, who in war time ſhall be poſted at proper diſtances, ſo as to convey from one to another the letters and advices relative to his majeſty's ſervice, ſo that they may be conveyed without delay to the commander in chief and intendant of the province.

Letters from Madrid, Naples and Turin adviſe, that a conſiderable augmentation is making in their troops. People are employed in all the Catholic Swiſs Cantons to raiſe men for the ſervice of Spain, but with what deſign is not yet known.

Genoa. We have been ſo often miſtaken with regard to the diſpoſition of Spain towards England, that we may poſſibly be ſo again at this time, notwithſtanding the foundation we have for our conjectures. It is ſaid that the court of Madrid will hear of no propoſal from that of London, till the Engliſh conſent to give ample ſatisfaction for their inſults to the Spaniſh flag. Whilſt this affair is concluding, the court has given orders to the officers both in the land and ſea ſervice, to ſend an exact account of the real ſtate of their forces, and to compleat them as ſoon as poſſible; from whence we infer, that it is reſolved to put both the army and navy upon a reſpectable footing.

LONDON.

Dec. 16. The Cerberus man of war, now at Spithead, is ordered to Cork, to take the trade from thence to the Weſt Indies under her convoy.

"Since my laſt arrived here rear admiral Holmes, who is going out in the Active, captain Hughes, to the Bay, to relieve rear admiral Saunders, and take upon him the command of the ſquadron cruizing there; to join which, ſeveral ſhips are fitting out here. The admiral will ſail the firſt fair wind. It is ſaid a ſquadron of great force will be ſent to the Eaſt-Indies, under the command of commodore Geary, in the Lenox, of 74 guns; which ſhip is actually ſheathed and fitted for that purpoſe. Thurſday laſt was launched near Southampton, the Reſolution, of 74 guns. The command of the Edgar, of 70 guns, is given to captain Drake."----We hear that an order was iſſued on Saturday laſt for the immediate diſpatch of a cartel with 2500 French priſoners, which are to be exchanged for the ſame number of Engliſh ones, now confined in ſeveral ports of France.

Yeſterday the honourable houſe of commons adjourned to Tueſday the 16th day of January.----By an order from the court of France, an embargo is laid on all the privateers that arrive in their ports, in order to take the men for the uſe of the king's ſhips.----We are informed, that the king of Poland, as elector of Saxony, and preſident of the evangelick body, gave his opinion for not putting the princes of the empire under the ban.

Dec. 22. His Pruſſian majeſty is at preſent in Sileſia; and, notwithſtanding the meaſures taken for putting the troops into winter quarters, it is obſerved that the Pruſſian troops, which have been in garriſon, are preparing their winter equipage; and that two or three light trains of artillery are getting ready in different places.----They write from Dreſden, of the firſt inſtant, that the king of Pruſſia has ordered 100,000 rixdollars to be coined in that mint, to be diſtributed amongſt the poor ſufferers that had their houſes and effects conſumed in the fire in the ſuburbs; and that his majeſty was ſo well pleaſed with general de Schmettau's conduct, whilſt governor of that place, that he has made him maſter of the ordnance, preſented him with a regiment of cuiraſſiers, and given him orders to raiſe a new regiment of foot.---By one of the Eaſt-India ſhips there is the following account: That ſince the new nabob had been made at Bengal, there had been three rebellions in his dominions; but that colonel Clive, at the head of his forces, had put an end to them, and had eſtabliſhed him in the poſſeſſion of his three provinces in peace, being confirmed nabob by the great mogul: That the mogul had conferred great honour, and a command on colonel Clive, and given him a title, which (tranſlated from the Perſian language) ſignifies, "The never to be conquered, and protector of provinces." It is alſo added, that 2000 men were at work in fortifying Calcutta.

Dec. 23. We hear that three battalions of the foot-guards will go abroad on an expedition in the ſpring.

Dec. 25. This day the right honourable Sir Charles Powlett, knight of the Bath, commonly called the marquis of Wincheſter, was, by his majeſty's command, ſworn of his majeſty's moſt honourable privy council, and took his place at the board accordingly.---The king of Denmark hath refuſed to take upon him the protection of the Dutchy of Mecklenbourg, as the emperor had enjoined: His Daniſh majeſty anſwered his Imperial majeſty, that as duke of Holſtein he was too weak to aſſume that charge; and that as king he had no orders to receive from any one.---Laſt week a quantity of lead ſhot, and other millitary ſtores, were ſhipped for the Weſt-Indies.---The bounties and rewards for ſeamen are continued till the 28th of February.

Dec. 26. The king of Pruſſia has declared the ſon of his late brother, prince of Pruſſia.---The prince of Conti is to take the command of the army in Germany, in the room of marſhal Contades.

Dec. 27. It is ſaid that a grand expedition will be undertaken very early in the ſpring.---The following is an extract of a letter from Portſmouth, dated December 25. "Since my laſt arrived the Ramillies, rear-admiral Saunders, who is very ill on board with the gout. A ſquadron of ten men of war is fitting for the Eaſt-Indies with great expedition."---On Thurſday laſt 450 ſoldiers, who were made priſoners at St. Cas, were landed at Dover out of a cartel ſhip, and yeſterday the guards arrived in town. There are about 150 of the ſick and wounded left in France, who will be brought over in the next cartel ſhip.

Dec. 28. They write from Ratiſbon, that the evangelick body of the German empire have ſolicited his Imperial majeſty (by reſcript) to lay aſide all thoughts of putting the king of Pruſſia, and his high allies, under the ban of the empire; deſiring him to conſider the conſequences that may ariſe from ſuch proceedings; at the ſame time they requeſted that the German ſtates may be freed from foreign troops.

Dec. 29. They write from Holland, that the princeſs governante, when ſhe went to the aſſembly of the ſtates-general, and delivered the famous memorial of the merchants, expreſſed herſelf to the following import: "That ſhe came not to the aſſembly to ſtir up the zeal of their high mightineſſes for the preſervation of their country, of which they had given evident proofs on every occaſion; but to intreat them to take into ſerious conſideration, the augmentation of the land forces, which was ſo neceſſary in the preſent critical circumſtances of the ſtate, in order to guard its frontiers from inſult. That with regard to the fourth deputation of the merchants, and the ſpeech, of which ſhe had delivered to them a copy, ſhe had as yet made no remarks on it, only that it was not expreſſed in proper terms to bring things to an amicable concluſion, notwithſtanding the aſſurances ſhe had given the merchants, That ſhe hoped, by her repeated ſolicitations, to bring matters to an happy iſſue in England; that ſhe therefore laid it before their high mightineſſes, and left it to them to do in that affair as they ſhould think proper: That the time became more and more urgent, for thinking of the ſafety of the republick: That if the equipment propoſed by the merchants ſhould be judged neceſſary, it ought immediately to be carried into execution, jointly with the augmentation of the land forces, that the ſtate might be put on a reſpectable footing by ſea and land: That ſhe therefore hoped that, on her ſolicitation, and that of the provinces of Gueldres, Utrecht, Over-Yſſel, and Groninguen, their high mightineſſes would exhort the province of Holland to deſiſt from its oppoſition to the ſaid augmentation; and that all the confederates would unanimouſly conſent to thoſe two points, ſo eſſential at all times, but eſpecially in the preſent circumſtances."---Some letters ſay, that the princeſs governante is dangerouſly ill of a dropſy.

Dec. 30. Letters from Hanover of the 16th inſtant adviſe, that prince Iſenbourg, with a body of troops under his command, was advanced to Marburg, where the French were in poſſeſſion of the caſtle, which would occaſion the Heſſians to beſiege it in form; and that the prince of Holſtein, with a body of Hanoverians, was marching through the biſhoprick of Paderborn, to ſupport that undertaking.---We hear that the king of Pruſſia appointed a number of the magiſtrates of Dreſden to enquire, upon oath, into the damages done by the late fire in the ſuburbs of that city; who delivered their atteſtation in writing, that only two perſons were burnt, two ſhot, and two wounded; that 280 houſes were burnt, and that it appeared to them, that the inhabitants had timely notice given to them to retire, and that the Auſtrians did not endeavour to extinguiſh the fire.

Hague (in Holland) Dec. 18. Nothing has been ſaid for ſome Days of the Princeſs Governante's ill State of Health. In the Anſwer which her Royal Highneſs made to the famous Speech of the Deputies of the Merchants, among other Things ſhe ſaid, "That ſhe ſaw with Grief the State of Commerce; that ſhe was as much affected as any of the Merchants; and that it was not her Fault they had no more Protection but that of the Towns of Dort, Harlem, Amſterdam, Tergaw, Rotterdam, and the Brille; that if it had not been for thoſe Towns, the Forces both by Sea and Land would have been on a better Footing; and that her Royal Highneſs's Labours had never ceaſed for giving Satisfaction to Commerce;" [producing the Letter of the King her Father, wherein his Majeſty ſaid, 'The Affairs of the Hollanders are now in hand, and 'Yorke will immediately have the neceſſary Inſtructions 'to an amicable Accommodation with the Republic. My 'Miniſters are endeavouring at the Means of ſuppreſſing 'the Inſolence of Privateers.'] adding, "That ſhe was informed that Mr. Yorke had demanded a Conference for entering into a Negotiation, which ſhe hoped would be attended with a happy Succeſs."

'Tis ſaid that our Merchants have, by way of Preliminary, renounced all Commerce with the French Colonies; whereby it is hoped our untoward Affairs will be the more eaſily adjuſted.

Breſt (in France) Dec. 18. They talk here of a conſiderable Embarkation to be made in this Port next Spring. The India Company are getting ready ſome Ships at Port l'Orient, and it ſeems they intend to ſend them out before the End of this Month.

Magdeburgh, Dec. 19. Not fewer than 36,000 recruits are raiſing to complete and augment our ſeveral regiments. Funds for raiſing money to continue the war, without having recourſe to new taxes, and laying freſh burdens on the people, are already ſettled.

Vienna, Dec. 13. Count Daun arrived here the 7th in the evening, and next day appeared at court in a very rich uniform, embroidered with the order of Thereſa, adorned with large brilliants, which was ſent him the night before by the Empreſs Queen. It is confirmed, that this great Captain ſollicits leave to reſign, unleſs he ſhall be entruſted with diſcretionary powers, and have no council of war to attend him.

Humburgh, Jan. 5. Count Dohna has advanced, with the Pruſſian Army under his Command, thro' the Dutchy of Mecklenburgh, into Swediſh Pomerania, and, as it is reported, had taken Poſſeſſion of the Town of Damgarden, after a reſiſtance of ſome hours.

Schwerin, Dec. 25. Laſt night a large body of Pruſſian troops arrived in the neighbourhood of this city, and obliged the inhabitants of the adjacent places to furniſh them with proviſions and forage. This corps has brought a conſiderable train of artillery, and, we are told, is marching directly to beſiege Stralſund.

Honover, Dec. 28. Prince Ferdinand has ordered all the troops of his army to be ready to take the field by the 20th of February, in order to be beforehand with the French, who are preparing for an early campaign.

Franckfort, Dec. 26. The King of Pruſſia's reaſon for diſgracing General Retzow, and confining him to Schweidnitz, where he lately died, is no longer a ſecret. At the action of the 14th of October, being entruſted with the command of the poſt of Hochkirchen, which was of the utmoſt importance, he confided the command of a battery, which was to protect his camp, to a Saxon Officer, who ſuffered the Auſtrians to get poſſeſſion of it without firing a gun. They immediately turned the cannon.

The King of Pruſſia arrived at Breſlau the 14th.

Peterſbourg, Dec. 3. It is ſtill ſaid that General Fermor will be recalled to give an account of his conduct, particularly in not puſhing the ſiege of Colberg; the taking of which would have ſecured the ſucceſs of our operations.

Bruſſels, Jan. 4. We learn from the Hague that the province of Holland has offered, in conjunction with thoſe of Zealand and Friſeland, to fit out eighteen men of war, beſides thoſe already in commiſſion, at their own expence, without requiring the other four provinces to furniſh their quotas.

Hague, Jan. 7. On the 2d inſt. the Prince de Soubiſe having obtained leave of the magiſtrates of Franckfort for ſome battalions of his army to paſs through the city, took that opportunity to ſeize that important place, into which he hath put five or ſix regiments.

LONDON.

Dec. 20. The flames of war ſeem ready to break out in the South, which all the political engines in Europe will hardly be able to keep under, if an event ſhould happen which is hourly expected. The king of Sardinia does not ſeem in a humour to relinquiſh ſome pretenſions that event may give him. France cannot tamely ſit down, and ſee her ſon in law deprived of what they muſt ſuppoſe his right. The king of the Sicilies will hardly think himſelf bound by treaties, when ſo fair an opportunity offers. And the queen of Hungary has enough upon her hands; yet, perhaps, from this confuſion order may ariſe, if not, how many millions muſt periſh for the ambition of a few!

Dec. 28. Four Ships more are ordered to ſail to join Commodore Moore's Squadron; they carry with them a great Quantity of Proviſions of all Kinds.

Jan. 2. Two Perſons of Diſtinction are arrived in Town from Holland, on Affairs of Importance.

Great Quantities of Bombs, great Shot, and other military Stores, are getting ready for the intended Expedition.

This is her third Voyage, having delivered two of the like Cargoes in France this Year, and cleared out for St. Sebaſtians at the ſame time.

His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint Lieutenant Henry Caldwell, of Col. Colvill's Regiment, to be Aſſiſtant Quarter-maſter General in America, with the Rank of Captain.

Lieutenant Liſle, of General Webb's, to be another Aſſiſtant in America, with the ſame Rank.

Alexander Murray, Eſq; Major to General Warburton's regiment, to have the rank of Lieutenant-colonel in America only. And

---- Farquhar, Eſq; Major to General Amherſt's regiment, to have the rank of Lieutenant-colonel in America only.

Jan. 3. By a Letter from Hamburgh there is an Account, that the King of Denmark had ordered 16,000 of his Troops from Norway, to join thoſe already in Holſtein and Sleſwyk, and that it was ſaid his Daniſh Majeſty would paſs over there in April next to review them. The aſſembling ſuch a large Body of Troops cauſes much Speculation.

A powerful Fleet is getting ready, no leſs than 42 Preſs Gangs being now employed to pick up ſtraggling Seamen.

January 11.

Extract of a letter from Senegal, on the coaſt of Africa, dated Nov. 20.

"Some time ſince our commander here ſent a detachment againſt ſome natives in the French intereſt, but were repulſed with the loſs of 24 men killed, with the ſecond in command, 27 wounded, and the reſt eſcaped by flight."

News is ſoon expected from the coaſt of Africa, where before this time Mr. Keppel muſt have arrived, if no accident has happened to detain him in his voyage.

The preparations for the intended expedition are going on with the greateſt diſpatch. Above 30 new flat bottomed boats have been built, and many more are ſtill building, which are ſent off to Portſmouth, as faſt as they can be finiſhed, that nothing may prevent the ſcheme from being put into execution as early as poſſible in the ſpring.

Mr. Knight, late of Newport, in the iſle of Wight, is appointed Naval Officer of the Bahama Iſlands, by Major General Shirley, Governor.

January 12. By the laſt letters from Portugal we have advice, that information being given to the King that three noblemen, who had been concerned in a plot againſt him, had taken ſhelter in certain convents, his Majeſty cauſed a Party of horſe guards, with ſome militia, to ſurround thoſe convents, in order that the ſaid noblemen might be ſeized; and accordingly two of them were taken; but the third made his eſcape. The Mercury, an Engliſh man of war, which lay in the Harbour, and the ſhips of all Nations, ready to ſail, were ordered to ſtop for ſome time, that the nobleman who had made his eſcape might have no opportunity of getting out of the kingdom.

The miniſters charged with the ſuffrages of Wolfenbuttle and Saxe-Gotha, at the diet of Ratiſbon, have diſperſed a paper, wherein they produce divers examples, of the Princeſſes of the houſe of Saxony, of the Erneſtine line, being, after the deceaſe of their huſbands, declared ſole regents and guardians of the princes their children during their minority; and thence inferring, that the diſpoſitions lately made by the Aulic Council in the affair concerning the tutelage of the young Duke of Saxe Weymar Eiſenach muſt be looked upon as invalid, and directly contrary to the will and codicil of the late Duke.

We hear from Hanover, that a winter campaign was much talked of there, and that warm cloathing was making for the ſoldiers.

A private letter from Poland gives us the following account of the Coſſacks, Calmucks, and Tartars, the irregulars in the Ruſſian ſervice, viz. That they are very great ſavages, quite ignorant and illiterate, and under very little diſcipline; they wear no uniform dreſs; they have a long under Garment, and over that a mantle or cloak, made of ſome ſheep or horſe ſkin, with the wool or hair on; they carry generally with them a large piece of raw fleſh; the Tartars are fond of horſe fleſh, of which they cut a piece when wanted, and clap it under their ſaddles, and ride with it in that manner till it is thoroughly heated, and then eat it; they rob and plunder friends or foes, or any perſon that comes in their way, having no pay but what they can plunder or ſteal.

We hear, that what gave occaſion to the ſkirmiſh with the natives at Senegal was, that thoſe people had come down and ſtolen ſome muſkets; upon which the governor threatned to ſend and deſtroy their habitations. Unluckily the party employed in this expedition did not know that the Governor had threatened the enemy with the very thing he ſent them to execute; and therefore hoped to ſurprize the enemy, but were ſurprized themſelves in the night. It is to be hoped that the new Governor who is gone out with Commodore Keppel, will accommodate this difference; otherwiſe our infant ſettlement at Senegal will be much ſtraitened at times, for want of proviſions, and ſome kind of neceſſaries.

We hear that Admiral Boſcawen has received orders to hold himſelf in immediate readineſs to take the command of the grand armament deſtined for America.

It is ſaid the Dutch have at this time ſeveral of their ſhips employed in carrying on the French trade to the Eaſt-Indies; in conſequence of which their India company's actions riſe conſiderably.

It is alſo ſaid that the Spaniards, Danes and Swedes, are going to aſſiſt us in the ſame way our good allies the Dutch do.

A great quantity of cloathing of all kinds is preparing to be embarked ſpeedily, for the uſe of the army in Germany, as well the Hanoverians and Heſſians, as the Engliſh troops.

There are 32 veſſels of war from 90 guns to 12 at Plymouth, beſides tranſports, &c. they are to be equipped there, and joined by ſeveral others from Portſmouth, in order to put to ſea earlier than was at firſt directed.

General Wolfe is promoted to the rank of a Major General; and the Hon. George Townſhend is made a Brigadier-General; and they are both to be employed in the ſame expedition.

Jan. 13. The French are making great Preparations along the Coaſt, to defeat any future Enterpriſe that may be undertaken againſt them. They are particularly attentive to the State of the Fortifications of St. Maloes, and of the Iſles of Oleron and Rhee, the Fortifications of which are conſiderably augmented and repaired.

Extract of a Letter from Portſmouth, January 12.

The Seaford, Miller, is arrived at Londonderry from Philadelphia. In her Paſſage ſhe took up the Crew of the Jones, Black, from Briſtol for Boſton, which foundered the 12th ult. on the Coaſt of Newfoundland.

We are well aſſured, that a Convention was, laſt Summer, concluded between the King of Pruſſia and the Prince of Poland (who had actually ſigned it) by which the King of Pruſſia was to keep ſome Fortreſſes of Saxony while the War laſted. But this Convention being ſent to Warſaw, to be approved of by the King, it was ſet aſide by Count Bruhl; upon which followed the Devaſtations of his Palaces.

A Letter from our Correſpondent in Holland adviſes, that the Armies of the Empreſs Queen have hitherto been paid very exactly; but that the Caſe is very different in thoſe of France. Upwards of Three Millions of Livres are owing to the Contractors that ſupply the Hoſpitals; and for want of the Sum of 1,400,000 Livres, an Exchange of Priſoners cannot be made with the Hanoverians.

Laſt Monday two Companies of the Royal Regiment of Artillery marched from Woolwich to Portſmouth, in order to embark for North-America.

Letters from Spain, of the 11th ult. ſay, the King grew worſe and worſe.

The King of the two Sicilies has again ordered a Squadron to be got ready to carry him and the Royal Family to Spain. Some Letters pretend to ſay that the King of Spain will abdicate his crown in favour of that Prince.

The Prince de Soubiſe has fixed his Head Quarters at Frankfort.

We hear the following Gentlemen are promoted to the Rank of Admirals; Captains Elliot Smith, Corniſh, Geary, and Callis.

Some private letters from Stettin give an account that the Pruſſians have inveſted Stralſund, where there is a garriſon of 8 or 10,000 men, and 200 guns mounted on the Ramparts, and that the garriſon is determined to defend the place to the laſt extremity.

Arrived at Graveſend, Smith from Boſton.

Letters from Hanover obſerve, that though there is no preſſing of men in the military ſervice, yet they recruit ſo ſucceſsfully all over the electorate, that not only moſt regiments are already filled up, but they have alſo found men enough to form ſeveral new corps; ſo that their army will be more numerous this year than the laſt.

Extract of a Letter from Dunkirk, Jan. 3.

"In point of neatneſs and opulence, our city will ſoon vye with all the maritime towns of the kingdom. We labour eſpecially to make the port one of the moſt conſiderable, next to thoſe of the three great marine departments. The baſon, which is actually finiſhed, is capable of receiving ſhips of 64 guns. We are enlarging the bounds of this city; and the inhabitants are very forward to extend the ſame, by buildings in the modern taſte. In ſhort, our ſituation will be extremely advantageous for the commerce of the north, and trade of all the Netherlands."

We are well aſſured, that the Princeſs of Orange is not dead; on the contrary, that ſhe appeared in public on New-Year's day, and received the uſual compliments of the nobility, foreign miniſters and deputies on that occaſion. It is, however, certain that ſhe is but in a very indifferent ſtate of health; that her diſorder, which is dropſical, is thought to be attended with very dangerous ſymptoms; and that there are but very little hopes of her ſurviving the preſent troubles.

KINGSTON, in Jamaica, December 30.

On Wedneſday laſt arrived at Port-Royal the ſloop Mercury, John Shannon late Maſter, from the Muſquito-Shore; on board of which Capt. Henry Corrin, Owner of her, came Paſſenger, and gives the following Account: That on Tueſday the 19th Inſtant, the ſaid Sloop was taken off Rocky-Point, near Wythy-Wood, by the Sloop Marie Topage, Capt. Fernandes, Commander, mounted with 12 Carriage, 20 Swivel Guns and 87 Men, belonging to Port au Prince. That at 8 o'Clock the next Evening he agreed to ranſom the Sloop Mercury for 500 l. Currency, leaving the Maſter (Shannon) as an Hoſtage, and putting on board 23 Priſoners, belonging to other Veſſels he had taken, diſcharged the Sloop, South Negrill bearing N. and by W. Diſtance about four Leagues, the Privateer then ſtanding to the Northward.

Capt. Newbold, late Commander of the Schooner Senep, from North America, bound to the Muſquito-Shore, was one of the Priſoners put on board of the Mercury from the Privateer, from whom we learn, that the ſaid Schooner was taken by Captain Fernandes, off Port-Antonio, on the third ult. That in ten Days after the Privateer went into Portillo in Cuba, to Boot Top and Trim, and in three Days after returned to Cruize off the Eaſt-End of this Iſland, and has ſince then retaken a Daniſh Sloop with French Produce, taken by the Auguſta and Dreadnought: He afterwards took the Brigantine Neptune, Capt. Underwood, from Rhode-Iſland bound to Montego-Bay. The Privateer goes exceeding well, and in ſmall Winds Rows very faſt; the Captain is well acquainted with the Navigation round this Iſland, and takes great Pains to diſguiſe his Veſſel to enſnare the Sugar-Drogging Sloops, by houſing his Guns, and unſhipping his Cranes, &c.

Charles-Town (in South-Carolina) Feb. 24.

Laſt Wedneſday the Dutch Snow Vrouw Aletta, ſome Time ſince ſeized and brought in here by the Naſſau, Capt. Pilkington, of Liverpool, being loaded with French Produce; was cleared at a Court of Admiralty then held, as no Evidence could then be produced to prove that her Cargo is French Property: But, an Appeal to the High Court of Admiralty of Great-Britain was immediately lodged, in Behalf of the Captors.

March 3. We hear, that ſome freſh Miſunderſtanding has broke out between the Creek Indians and the Subjects of our good Ally the King of Spain. What may be the Cauſe we do not pretend to know; but this ſeems certain, that about the 5th ult. 4 or 5 Spaniards and Spaniſh Indians were killed, very near St. Auguſtine, by the Creeks; and that the Creeks were purſued by a Party of Horſe, and 7 of them come up with encamped near Picolata, 5 of which were killed on the Spot; the Reſt eſcaped by plunging into the River.---This probably occaſioned the ſending of the Expreſs from Georgia, which arrived in Town 3 Days ago, with Diſpatches for his Excellency our Governor.

March 10. By a Daniſh Veſſel from St. Croix, which left that the 15th ult. and arrived here on Monday laſt, we learn, that the Fleet and Troops under Commodore Moore and General Hopſon, had Poſſeſſion of all the Iſland of Guadaloupe, except a Fort called Le Dos d'Aſne, whither all the Inhabitants had retired; but that this Fort was cloſely beſieged, and it was expected would ſoon ſurrender for want of Proviſions, which were very ſcarce throughout the Iſland.---That all the Ports in Martinico were ſo cloſely blocked up by our Men of War and Privateers, as to prevent the Inhabitants of that Iſland receiving any Supplies of Proviſions, of which they were in equal Want with thoſe of Guadaloupe; by which Means it was expected the Reduction of it would be accompliſhed without much Difficulty or Oppoſition.---That moſt of the Privateers belonging to Martinico and Guadaloupe were gone to Cape-Francois; whence they will probably be very troubleſome to the Jamaica Trade.----That ſo good a Look-out was kept off St. Euſtatia, as to have prevented any Proviſions going from thence to the French for a long while; whereby upwards of 4000 Barrels of Beef, that was to have been tranſported from thence at all Events to Martinico, had putrified and become uſeleſs.

Tueſday laſt, being the ſecond Day of diſcharging, examining, and appraiſing the Cargo of the Dutch Snow Vrouw Aletta, all the Appraiſers preſent, the ſecond Caſk of Coffee (all being probed for Papers, by a bearded Inſtrument made on Purpoſe) yielded a large Bundle of very intereſting French Papers, ſewed up in Canvas, and laid in the midſt of the Coffee, relative to Part of the ſaid Veſſel's Cargo, which it abſolutely proves to be French Property, and to the dutchified French Cargoes of many other Dutch Veſſels; and opening a moſt ſurpriſing Scene of Villainy: More Papers are expected to be found, ſereened in the ſame Manner: But already there remains no Doubt of this Snow's Cargo being as truly French Property as French Produce; and we hope, in our next, to be ſerviceable to the Captors of other pretended Dutch Veſſels (whoſe Fates may be ſtill depending) by the Lights the above mentioned Papers have given. We muſt not here omit to remark, that a ſolemn Affidavit has been lately tranſmitted hither from St. Euſtatia, annexed to an Invoice of every Article of the Vrouw Aletta's Cargo, of the whole being no other than Dutch Property, by the covering-Shippers of the Goods, and amongſt them a Perſon whoſe Station at leaſt, one would imagine, had ſet him above Temptations to Perjury.

On Thurſday put in here, the Sloop Charming-Polly, John Luſco Maſter, from New-York bound for Georgia, having ſprung her Maſt in 3 Places: She had been at Sea 32 Days.

BOSTON, March 12.

Extract of a Letter from St. Euſtatia, Feb. 2, 1759.

"The Engliſh are in Poſſeſſion of all the Forts at Guadaloupe, and probably by this Time all the Inhabitants have ſurrendered themſelves to the General's Clemency. They would in all Probability have ſucceeded at Martinico, but the Calms and Lee-Currents carried the Fleet to Leeward ſo far, that they could be of no Service to the Diſembarkation."

New-London, March 2. Saturday laſt arrived here a Veſſel from Monto-Chriſto, in which came Paſſengers two Indians, one of the Stockbridge, the other of the Mohegan Tribe; they give the following Account, viz. That they were under the Command of Captain Jacob, and taken by a Party of Canada Indians, near South-Bay, laſt Spring; and by them ſold on board a French Man of War of 24 Guns, at Quebeck; and from thence ſent to Cape-Francois, where they were again ſold, and kept to extream hard Labour and ſlender Diet, with the Negroes; but happening to diſcourſe with an honeſt Spaniard, who ſpoke Engliſh, they communicated their Story to him, whereupon the Spaniard adviſed them to make their Eſcape to Monto-Chriſto, where he did not doubt they might get a Paſſage home in ſome Engliſh Veſſel; which Advice they put in Execution, after ſtealing a Gun, Ammunition, and two large Knives, and made off to the Woods, and after 13 Days Travel they arrived at Monto-Chriſto. They further ſay there was ſuch a Froſt in Canada, in June laſt, as killed all the Corn, after which the Indians planted the Ground with Beans, which the Froſt alſo deſtroyed, ſo that the Indians gave four Pounds of Fur for one of Bread.

NEW-YORK, March 19.

Monday Evening laſt, returned from a ſucceſsful Cruize, the Privateer Snow Royal Eſther, Capt. Dale, and brought in with him the Brig Notre Dame des Doleurs, Monſieur Turcon, Maſter, of 4 Guns and 12 Men, from the Cape bound to Old France, and was one of the Fleet mentioned in our laſt.

Next Day was ſent in by the General Wolfe, Capt. Seymour, the Snow St. Anthony, Monſ. Ruddle late Maſter, from Martinico for Old France: Her Cargo is Sugar, Coffee and Cotton; and was taken the 6th of February laſt. The above Veſſel was formerly the St. Andrew, of Glaſgow, Capt. Gilles, and loaded here about twelve Months ago for Ireland; but was afterwards taken on a Voyage from Glaſgow for Antigua, when Capt. Gilles had one of his Arms ſhot away, engaging the Privateer he was taken by.

Friday laſt the Ship La Juno, from the Cape, of and for Marſeilles, of 16 ſix and nine Pounders, and 64 Men, Monſ. Aſpret, late Maſter, was ſent in here by the Tartar, Capt. Lawrence, and King of Pruſſia, Capt. Donaldſon, both in Privateers of this Port. She engaged the Tartar better than two Hours, but Captain Lawrence fought her ſo cloſe, that Monſieur, after having four Men killed, and ſeven wounded, was obliged to ſtrike his Colours. Captain Donaldſon could not poſſibly get up till the Engagement was over. She was taken the 21ſt of February, is a fine Veſſel, and thought to be the moſt valuable Prize brought into this Port ſince the Commencement of the preſent War, having more Indigo on board than all the Fleet beſides, excluding the Men of War: Her Cargo conſiſts of 225 Hogſheads and 31 Barrels of white Sugar, 64 Hogſheads and 9 Bags of Coffee, 44 Hogſheads, 15 Tierces and 9 Barrels of Indigo; beſides 591 Hides of tann'd Leather, and ſome other Trifles.

A Letter from London, of the 13th of January, ſays, "By this Day's Mail from Holland, there is Advice of the Death of the King of Spain; and it is generally believed it will have ſome conſiderable Effect on the Syſtem of Affairs; eſpecially if the King of Naples ſhould think of connecting that Kingdom with the Crown of Spain, to which he ſucceeds. A little Time will ſhew us how theſe Accounts will be, and what Part we, or the Parties concerned, will take.----From Germany we have no Advices, but that the French, under Pretence of Leave to march Troops through Frankfort, have poſſeſſed themſelves of it."

By the Albany Poſt we learn, That Major Rogers had been out on a Scout; and that he fell in with and attacked near Ticonderoga, a Body of the Enemy, of which he killed 33, brought off five Priſoners, and ſix Scalps; that he had a diſtinct View of Fort Carillon, and examined all the Out-works; that he loſt three Men in the Engagement, and that ſeveral of his People were Froſtbitten, and ſuffered by the extreme ſevere Weather.

Extract of a Letter from Albany, dated March 12.

"By an Expreſs from Fort-Edward, laſt Saturday Night, we have an Account, That Major Rogers was on his Return from a grand Scout, with upwards of 300 Men; that he has taken five Priſoners, and ſix Scalps, and killed about 30 of the Enemy: Our Loſs, it is ſaid, is three Men killed, one Mohawk wounded, and about 14 Men Froſt-bit. The Priſoners give an Account, that 70 French Indians were ſent out from Ticonderoga, to cut off our Convoys between Still-Water and Saraghtoga. All the Poſts above Albany are put upon their Guard, ſo that it is to be hoped no Miſchief will enſue from theſe Savages."

Yeſterday embarked here for Albany, Part of his Majeſty's 44th Regiment, that was quartered on Long-Iſland laſt Winter, and the Remainder we hear embarks To-day.

Since our laſt, Brigadier-General Robert Monkton, came to Town from the Eaſtward.

Extract of a Letter, dated Virginia, March 9th, 1759.

"Our Aſſembly are now ſitting, and have agreed to ſupport and pay a complete Regiment of 1000 Men for this Campaign; and is all, they ſay, they are able to do."

The General Aſſembly of the Colony of Rhode-Iſland, have made Choice of Col. Henry Babcock to command their Provincial Regiment, and all the other Officers neceſſary; and as their Men were detained in the Service, we hear they will be ready to march in three Weeks at fartheſt, for Albany, agreeable to General Amherſt's Orders.

LISBON, November 7.

THE King is recovered from the accident that lately happened to him, and enjoys perfect health. The fleet for Rio de Janeiro, now ready to ſail from hence, is detained by bad weather, which is occaſioned by hard gales at ſouth weſt. This fleet has on board a reinforcement of ſeveral regiments for the army in Paraguay, which is to be farther reinforced by the troops which the court of Madrid will ſend over to that country, in order, with their joint forces, to bring the rebels to obedience.

Warſaw, Nov. 25. Count Malachowſki, High Chancellor of the Crown, delivered the 10th inſtant to Prince Charles of Saxony the diploma that confirms the election of his Royal Highneſs in quality of Duke of Courland and Semigalia. The inveſtiture thereof is fixed for the 2d of next January.

We are abſolutely ignorant of thoſe propoſals of peace which ſome pretend have been made to the King our Sovereign in the name of his Pruſſian Majeſty; there is not the leaſt appearance of truth in all that has been given out on this head in Holland and elſewhere. It is equally falſe, that the King of Pruſſia ſent hither Colonel Malakowſky, to demand of the Republic the ſuccour of three thouſand men, ſtipulated by the treaty of Wolau; nor has the Great General of the Crown army ſollicited the King to make the Ruſſian troops evacuate the territories of the Republic. All theſe ſtories wear the marks of lying and partiality; and beſides, they are ſo groſly invented, that they can impoſe upon none but thoſe who are willing to be deceived.

Francfort, Dec. 5. The Marquis de Caſtries, at the head of the regiment of St. Germain, and a few detachments from the King's and Ferronaye's regiments, dragoons, appeared the 1ſt inſtant at five in the morning before the town of St. Goar, carried it by ſcalade, and took 50 men who guarded it, without firing a muſket. About eight o'clock he ſummoned the fortreſs of Rhinfels; the garriſon conſiſted of 700 men, who delivered up the place without offering the leaſt reſiſtance, and were made priſoners of war. Theſe two places belong to to the Landgrave of Heſſe-Caſſel.

From the Frontiers of the Country of Heſſe, Dec. 1. The Prince of Iſenbourg, who had eſtabliſhed his head-quarters at Caſſel the 23d of laſt month, cauſed part of his troops to march yeſterday towards Fritzlar, a town dependant upon the electorate of Mentz, and the reſt into the bailiwick of Gudenberg, where they are to canton till further orders. Theſe troops, it is ſaid, are going to be joined by ſome regiments of horſe and foot from Prince Ferdinand's army, by means of which reinforcement it is propoſed to drive the French quite out of this country.

The villages in the neighbourhood of Caſſel afford a diſmal proſpect, the roofs and windows of all the houſes being entirely deſtroyed. The gardens and incloſures have undergone the ſame fate, and there are neither horſes nor other cattle left in the country. In ſhort, the whole is a ſcene of miſery, and the melancholy conſequences of a war with which we had originally nothing to do.

Conſtantinople, Nov. 4. The Tartars have found means to make their peace with the Grand Signior, on conditions, perhaps, a little too favourable for thoſe rebels; being allowed to keep the new Chan which they choſe themſelves, after driving away the Chan ſent them by the Porte. They engage to reſtore all the ſlaves belonging to the ſubjects and vaſſals of the Ottoman Empire, and alſo to deliver a certain quantity of proviſions to this capital; which indeed is no indifferent object at this time.

Francfort, Dec. 9. We learn from Greitz in Voigtland, that on the 1ſt inſt. there was a briſk affair between the Auſtrians and Pruſſians near Schonfels, and the ſame day a ſecond near Reichenbach, with conſiderable loſs on both ſides. But our advices add, that the Pruſſians continued to advance.

Hague, Dec. 14. The letters received this day by the poſt from Germany bring advice of a very briſk ſkirmiſh, which happened on the 1ſt of this month, near Reichenbach, on the frontiers of Bohemia, between the Auſtrians and Pruſſians, wherein a conſiderable number was killed and wounded on each ſide.

Stettin, Nov. 28. The Ruſſian garriſon before they left

Drieſen

Drieſen, deſtroyed all the works, and went with the other detached corps to rejoin the army of General Fermor, which encamped the 23d behind Schneidemuhle in Poland. Tho' the Coſſacks diſgrace themſelves by their exceſſes, we muſt do the Ruſſian generals the juſtice to ſay, that they do not ſpare to puniſh them very rigorouſly. Even the officers are not ſuffered to eſcape puniſhment; for a major died not long ſince under the execution of the ſentence that was paſſed upon him, and a colonel was condemned to have his noſe and ears cut off.

St. JOHN's, in ANTIGUA, February 7.

By ſeveral veſſels arrived from Guadaloupe ſince our laſt, we have a confirmation of our former account of the enemy's being ſurpriſed, and having loſt 200 men (not 300) in a ſkirmiſh with the advanced party of our army. And on Sunday, the 4th inſtant, the advanced part of our army ſtormed a redoubt, ſituate on the oppoſite ſide of a deep gully, which was obſtinately defended by the enemy, but carried by our troops, and 50 men made priſoners in it. Major Melville (who has been ſo active in diſtreſſing the enemy) had the misfortune of having his hands and face ſcorched by ſome powder, which was concealed in a houſe he ſet fire to in the redoubt, but he is not ſo much hurt, as to occaſion his leaving his poſt.

On the happy ſucceſs of His Majeſty's arms, in the reduction of Baſſeterre, &c. it has been judged proper to ſend Capt. Tyrrell home with the account of it, who ſail'd for England about a week ago, in His Majeſty's ſloop Weazel, Captain Bowles. It is alſo ſaid Capt. Tyrrell is charged with other commiſſions of very great importance. We hear Capt. Leſlie is appointed to the command of the Buckingham, Capt. Parker to the Briſtol, Capt. Deering to the Woolwich, Capt. King to the Rye, and Lieut. Hulton to the Bonetta.

Feb. 14. The following account of our forces gone againſt Point Peter, is taken from a letter which arrived here yeſterday from Guadaloupe.

"Since my laſt one ſhip of 70 guns, one of 64, one of 50, two of 40, and three bombs, 500 marines, and 150 Highlanders, have been diſpatched to Point Peter, which lies in the S. E. part of Guadaloupe. The deſign is to draw the French from the entrenchments in the front of our army, and to cut off all communication between Grandterre and the Dieudon."

Extract of a letter, dated Baſſeterre, in Guadaloupe, February 12, 1759.

"Nothing material has happened for ſome time paſt. A few days ago the Berwick, Roebuck, Woolwich, two bombs, and I believe two or three ſmall veſſels more, went to Point Peter, or Fort Louis, ſituate on the S. W. part of Grandterre, and the day before yeſterday an account came from them, that they were obliged to bring to a t too great a diſtance from the Fort, to do proper execution againſt it, and the ſea was ſo rough, that the bombs muſt play with great uncertainty, unleſs all the ſhips at once enter'd the harbour; which, ſhould they not meet with ſucceſs, might be dangerous, as it would be very difficult to get out again. On this the Panther ſailed yeſterday to join them, with orders, it is ſaid, for all the ſhips to enter the harbour immediately, and we cannot doubt but they will meet with ſucceſs. This, you will obſerve, is what is reported here, but it is no wonder that miſrepreſentations are ſometimes made in Antigua, for I aſſure you it is very difficult to come at truth even here. The death of poor Plaſtow is an inſtance of this, for he died like a hero in ſtorming the redoubt you heard of ſome time ago; he ſtood two wounds before that which proved the fatal one.

The detachment from Antigua has loſt 6 or 7 men, and about 20 wounded; and from the beſt information I can get, not above 100 men have been killed in the whole.

The fort here is ſuch a place as I did not expect to find it. It has been a work of very great labour and expence, and I am really ſurpriſed the enemy gave it up ſo ſoon as they did. The declivity of the ground it ſtands on, does indeed expoſe it in ſome degree to ſhips in the road; however, the guns that are pointed that way, are well enough covered, and all the battering it received has done it little, or rather no damage. I look upon it to be capable of ſtanding a regular ſiege by land, and the Engliſh have now made it ſtronger than ever it was.

The troops are encamped in three places, juſt without the town, except detached parties, in different parts of the country. The enemy are in ſight, and ſtragglers every day come down, and fire at our centries, and detached parties. They will frequently venture within random muſket ſhot of the fort, and their balls have ſometimes fallen in it, but the Engliſh do not return their fire.

How this expedition may terminate God only knows. I don't pretend to be a judge of theſe matters, but I cannot find that any one infers, from the ſtrength of the enemy, that a ſpeedy conqueſt of the iſland would be a work of difficulty. The ſmallneſs of the town, and thinneſs of habitations in the country, as well as the appearance they make, ſeem plainly to prove that the enemy are not numerous; and I cannot find out any thing they have done, or are now doing, that argues either their ſkill or reſolution to defend themſelves. Some hope that if Fort Louis ſhould be taken, a body of troops will be landed there, and by marching up into the country from thence, will come upon the back of the enemy, and put them between two fires, but I cannot ſee the neceſſity of this; whenever the generals are diſpoſed to approach the enemy, it may be eaſily done from where they are."

Extract of a Letter, dated Baſſeterre, Guadaloupe, Feb. 15.

"We have juſt received the agreeable news of the ſurrender of Fort Louis, and the town, and the batteries in the neighbourhood of Point Peter. The ſhips firſt ſent up were reinforced by the Panther, and began the attack about 10 o'clock yeſterday. The cannonading was very ſmart for ſome hours, but about five in the afternoon the enemy's fire ceaſed, and Engliſh colours were hoiſted in the fort; and the town, which is but ſmall, was preſently reduced to aſhes. Our loſs in this action was not more than 10 or 12 men; that of the enemy we do not know, but what remained of them fled into the country. The fort is a very good one, and on it and the batteries 40 odd guns were mounted. It is ſaid a garriſon will be left in the fort, and the ſhips employed at Marigalante. The report in the fleet at firſt was, that all Grandterre had ſurrendered on terms, but that was a miſtake.

"I have alſo this day heard of another material ſtep which has been taken, towards bringing this iſland under obedience to the crown of England, which is this; the general and commodore have publiſhed a declaration, importing, that at the firſt landing of his majeſty's troops at this place, letters were addreſſed to the French governor, and the inhabitants of the iſland in general, ſignifying, that in caſe the inhabitants came in within a limited time, and ſubmitted to the government of his Britannick majeſty, they ſhould be protected in the poſſeſſion of their houſes, lands, and effects of all kinds; but that, for reaſons beſt known to himſelf, the ſaid French governor had kept the contents of the ſaid letters to himſelf, and concealed them from the inhabitants. THEREFORE, to prevent the effuſion of blood, &c. the general and commodore thought it their duty to inform the inhabitants in general, that in caſe they ſurrendered within 12 days from the 14th inſtant, and behaved with due obedience to his Britannick majeſty, they [the general and commodore] would, as far as in them lay, protect them in the quiet poſſeſſion of their eſtates, effects, &c. and all free negroes, molattoes, &c. who behaved as above, and brought in their arms, ſhould have their freedom and privileges confirmed: BUT, in caſe of failure to comply with theſe favourable conditions, MILITARY EXECUTION was to be expected.

"I am in great hopes, that if means can be found to make this declaration ſufficiently known, it will have the deſired effect; for the enemy muſt know our army is very ſufficient to force a ſubmiſſion to much harder terms; alſo the taking of Fort Louis, and the havock our privateers make along the coaſts of the iſland, muſt be ſtrong inducements to ſubmit under the favourable conditions which have been offered. From Baſſeterre all along the coaſt, as far as Engliſhman's Head, the privateers have hardly left a houſe ſtanding near the ſea, but have burnt and plundered all the coaſt; and the reduction of Fort Louis will encourage them to do the ſame by Grandterre and the S. E. coaſt of Guadaloupe,"

P. S. Since the above was prepared for publication, we have received a certain account, that, in conſequence of the taking Fort Louis, all Grandterre has ſurrendered.

Extract of a Letter from Barbados, dated the 7th Inſtant.

"We are in daily expectation of the Engliſh and Iriſh fleets; and it is ſaid, the Trident, and two other ſhips of war, are on their paſſage for this iſland; and that more tranſports, with Highlanders, may be expected."

Several veſſels have arrived from Guadaloupe ſince our laſt, by which we learn, that on Saturday laſt a party were ſent out from the advanced poſt of our army, to bring in a flock of cattle which were ſeen at a diſtance; but in paſſing a gully, near the place, the enemy fired at them from behind an entrenchment, and killed an officer and 4 or 5 private men, yet the entrenchments were notwithſtanding forced; but the enemy found means to carry off the cattle.

Feb. 24. We have advice from Guadaloupe, that the Engliſh troops have taken poſſeſſion of an entrenched riſing ground to the eaſtward of the fort, and where the French have lately thrown up a redoubt.

Feb. 28. Several privateers arrived yeſterday from Guadaloupe, laden with plunder; and brought in one prize pettiaugre, ſuppoſed to be very valuable. The reports from Guadaloupe are, that the Engliſh army have decamped, and advanced very near the enemy; but we cannot give it as a certainty.

NEW-YORK, March 12.

Particulars of Major Robert Rogers's laſt Scout againſt the Enemy, viz.

THAT on the 3d March, inſtant, he marched from Fort-Edward for Ticonderoga, with Capt. Lotteridge, and 52 Indians, compoſed of Mohawks, Conojeheries, Schoharries, Dilliways, Oneidas, and Seneca's; and the following Detachment, viz. Of the Royal Regiment, Lieutenants Weſt and Cook, 4 Serjeants, 1 Corporal, and 40 Privates. Royal Americans, Light Infantry, Capt. Wylliamos, Lieut. M'Key, Enſigns Brown and Moony, 4 Serjeants, 4 Corporals, and 110 Privates. Volunteers of ditto, Lieut. Trumbal, 3 Serjeants, 4 Corporals, and 41 Privates; and Lieut. Brime, Engineer; and of the Rangers, Lieut. Tute, Holmes, Brewer and Stark, 7 Serjeants, and 79 Privates; The whole, Officers included, being 358: That they encamped the firſt Night at Half-Way Brook, on the Road to Fort William Henry; one Indian having hurt himſelf on the Road, returned back with another to take care of him: That on the 4th, at 10 o'Clock they began their March towards Lake-George, and when within a Mile of the ſame, halted till the Cloſe of the Evening, that they might the better paſs undiſcovered from any Party of the Enemy, that might be watching on the Hills, when they continued their March till two o'Clock in the Morning, at which Time they halted at the firſt Narrows.- -In the Morning ſeveral of the Detachments being Froſt bitten, ſent back 23 of them with a careful Serjeant of the Rangers, with Orders to return with them to Fort-Edward. On the Evening of the 5th, they began their March, and reached Sabbath Day Point about 1 o'Clock, when they encamped till the Morning of the 7th, at which Time marched again, and arrived at the landing Place about 8 o'Clock in the Morning, and halted on a Point of Land on the Eaſt Side, near Mutton-Iſland, where they intended to form an Ambuſcade, and endeavour to draw out a Party from the Fort, by a few ſkulking Perſons, who were to return again to the main Body.---- That at 9 o'Clock they ſent out two Rangers and two Indians to reconnoitre, that the Major might the better effect his Deſigns; they returned about 11 o'clock, and reported, that there was no Party out on the Weſt Side, but on the Eaſt Side there were two Parties cutting of Wood. ---It then appearing a good Time for the Engineer to make his Obſervations, &c. Capt. Wylliamos was ordered to remain with the Regulars, and thirty Rangers, whilſt the Major, with the Engineer and 49 Rangers, and Capt. Lotterige, with 45 Indians, ſhould go to the Hill on the Iſthmus that overlooks the Fort; where Major Rogers left Lieut. Tute, and 10 Rangers, as a Guard, with an Intent to croſs the Lake with the Remainder to the Eaſt Side, and cut off the working Party that Night.---That when he came near the Lake, he found that he could not get over undiſcovered in the Day Time, therefore returned to the Engineer, who was left to make Obſervation of the Fort, &c.---and with him, and the whole Party, marched back to the Point where Capt. Wylliamos was, firſt leaving five Indians and one Ranger to obſerve what Numbers croſſed the Lake in the Evening, from the Eaſt Side to the Fort.---That about dark the Indians and Rangers returned with an exact Account of their Numbers, at which Time the Engineer ſet out again with Lieut. Tute and 10 Rangers, and went to the Entrenchment, from whence he returned about Midnight without any Moleſtation, and ſaid, he had accompliſhed his Buſineſs to his Satisfaction.----That upon this the Major ordered Capt. Williamos, with the Regulars, back to Sabbath Day Point; as the Weather was exceſſive cold, and the Party much fatigued, it did not appear prudent to march them any further, therefore ſent with them Lieutenant Tute and thirty Rangers, as occaſional Pilots, or flanking Parties.

That at 3 o'clock the Major marched with capt. Lotteridge and 46 of his Indians, with Lieutenants Holmes, Stark, and Brewer, and forty of his Rangers, and one Regular, in order to attack the working Party, on the Eaſt Side, early in the Morning, and croſſed South Bay, eight Miles South of the Fort, from thence bore down the ſame till they were oppoſite the Fort on the Eaſt ſide, where they halted within half a Mile of the Lake; from whence ſent out two Indians to reconnoitre, who returned in a few Minutes, and brought Intelligence, that the Working Party was cloſe to the Bank of the Lake, oppoſite to the Fort. Upon which they ſtripped off their Blankets, and ran down upon them, took ſeven Priſoners, four Scalps, and killed ſeveral others, as they were retreating to the Fort, whereupon eighty Indians and Canadians ruſhed out of the Fort, and purſued our Men cloſely, being backed by about 150 French Regulars.---That in about one Mile's March the Indians and Canadians overtook them, and began to play on their Rear; as they marched in a Line abreaſt, their Front was eaſily made, and halted on a riſing Ground, and engaged the enemy, who behaved with great Bravery for a little Time, but ſoon found they could not ſtand before our Markſmen, till their Reinforcement could come up, and was obliged to ſcatter and run for it. That after this the Major began his March again in a Line abreaſt, and when he had proceeded about half a Mile further, the Enemy appeared in ſight again, but he did not chooſe to engage them there, and went a little further, and halted on a long Ridge on that ſide, oppoſite to the Enemy, when the Canadians and Indians came up very cloſe, but their purſuit was ſoon ſtopt by a volley from the Mohawks and Rangers, which broke them immediately, when Part of Rogers's Detachment purſued them, till they were in ſight of the French Regulars, where the French made a Stand.---That afterwards he marched off without any oppoſition, the Enemy not daring to purſue him any further.---That in theſe ſeveral ſkirmiſhes they had 2 Rangers and 1 Regular killed, and one Indian badly wounded, and judged to have killed about thirty of the Enemy."

We can further aſſure the Publick, That Major Rogers's Party in general, both Officers and Men, behaved extremely well, and eſpecially Capt. Lotteridge and Lieutenant Holmes, who ſtrove to exceed each other, both of whom behaved with great Bravery and Coolneſs during the whole Affair.---That he continued his Retreat till 12 o'clock at Night, and at the End of fifty Miles March, from where he ſet out in the Morning, joined Capt. Wylliamos at Sabbath Day Point, who had kindled Fires for his Reception, which were, no doubt, very acceptable to the Party.--- And that next Morning he marched as far as Long Iſland, on the Lake, with the whole Detachment, where he encamped, from which Place he ſent an Expreſs to Col. Haldiman, at Fort Edward, and was met the next Morning at Lake George, by Capt. M'Bein, with a Detachment, who brought ſome Slays to carry the diſabled men to Fort Edward, where they all arrived the Evening of the 10th.

We hear the Mohawks carried four of the French Priſoners home with them.

Since our laſt the Batchelor, Capt. Stephenſon, arrived here in 19 days from Monti Chriſto; by her we learn, that a ſloop from St. Kitts had arrived there, and affirmed, that the whole Iſland of Guadaloupe had ſurrendered to His Majeſty's Forces, but cou'd not exactly tell upon what Terms, yet it was tho't to be Priſoners of War.

Saturday Capt. Todd, in a ſloop belonging to Hartford, in Connecticut, arrived here in 19 days from Antigua. He brings advice of the death of major-general Hopſon, at Guadaloupe, and that he was ſucceeded in the command by major general the honourable colonel Barrington; that they had advices from Guadaloupe, as late as the 28th of February, when the governor, and a number of the inhabitants, were ſtill in poſſeſſion of the Dieudon; that our people were advancing towards them with great precaution, and that ſeveral ſcouring parties had appeared at a diſtance, but ſeldom or ever within gun-ſhot; and that veſſels were daily arriving at Antigua and St. Kitts with plunder.

Capt. Todd informs us, That a few days before he ſailed, an account came to Antigua from Barbados, That Commodore Keppel had actually ſucceeded at Goree in Africa; but that he had loſt a 50 gun ſhip and a bomb veſſel on the coaſt, and that the brig that brought the account to Barbados, poſitively got part of her Slaves at Goree.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.

On Friday last Captain Aitkins arrived here in about eight Weeks from Lisbon, by whom we have the following Extract of a Letter from that Place, dated the Fifteenth of January.

"You have seen, no doubt, long ago, by our English Papers, that an Attempt was made the 3d of September last, on his Portugueze Majesty's Life, which was very wisely hushed up for some Months, and, by the Minister, imputed to a Fall, till he discovered the horrid Plot that was formed by some of the principal Nobility and Jesuits, against his Majesty's Life, without any other View but to subvert the Government; however, Providence, for the Good of this poor Country, happily interfered, and his Majesty is entirely recovered. The 13th of last Month several of the principal Nobility were taken into Custody, and their Crimes being plainly proved, as also from their own Confessions, the following People suffered Punishment equal to their horrid Guilt the 13th Instant, viz.

The Marchioness de Tavora was beheaded.

Next followed her Son, Joze Maria de Tavora, who was strangled, and broke on the Wheel.

The Conde de Attaguia, her Son-in-Law; the young Marquis de Tavora, her Son; two menial Servants of the Duke's, and an Ensign of Horse, were also strangled, and broke on the Wheel.

Then the old Marquis, who was broke on the Wheel alive, but received the Coup de Grace on the Breast.

After him came the Duke de Aveira, who was also broke alive; but had both his Arms broke before he received the Blow on his Breast.

Last of all, and the most shocking, was a Servant of the Duke's, who was burnt alive. There was also the Effigies of another burnt, who has made his Escape; after which the whole Scaffold, with the Bodies, were burnt, and the Ashes thrown into the Sea. It is reported that more Executions will soon follow, particularly some of the Jesuits, who were the principal Fomenters in this Plot. Every Thing has been conducted with great Tranquility, and the Secretary of State has shewn great Abilities in averting the dreadful Consequences which would have attended it, had it been effected."

The Person, whose Effigies was burnt, was taken the Day before Captain Aitkins sailed. They had heard nothing at Lisbon of the King of Spain's Death, nor of any Misfortune happening to Commodore Keppel's Squadron.

The same Day Capt. Wright arrived here from Fyal, and brought Advice, that the Ruby Transport, William Kelly, Master, bound to St. Maloes, with 310 of the Inhabitants of the Island of St. John on board, sprung a Leak in a Gale of Wind, and being in great Distress, the Captain made the best of his Way for the Western Islands, and thought to have got to Fyal; but the Wind shifting, they were obliged to stand for the Island of Pico, where the Ship struck on the Rocks, and soon went to Pieces, when 200 of the French perished. They had no Advice at Fyal of Commodore Keppel's putting into Madeira, nor of his receiving any Damage at Sea.

Captain Underwood, from Rhode-Island for Jamaica, is taken, and carried to Port-au-Prince.

And the Humbird, from Virginia to Providence, is cast away.

The Snow Sadler, Captain Fitzherbert, is arrived at Nevis from this Port.

Friday, the Sixth of April, from Nine to Twelve in the Forenoon, and from Three to Six in the Afternoon, and the Saturday following, from Nine till Twelve in the Forenoon, is appointed for the publick Examination of Candidates for Degrees in the College of this City; at which time the Company of such as please to attend, will be very acceptable.

PROPOSALS for printing by Subscription, a Supplement to the Mathematical Traverse Tables in Epitome, intituled, "A Sure Guide to all Practical Mariners, Surveyors, and o-"thers." By JOHN GORDON, late of Philadelphia.

To the READER.

The general apparent Utility of the Traverse Tables, which I published last Year, and its favourable Reception by the Publick; as well as the Desire of several eminent Mathematicians, Teachers of the Branches of Surveying and Navigation, in this and the neighbouring Provinces; and of divers Gentlemen of His Majesty's Fleet and Army, have induced me to attempt a Remedy for the many Errors to which Draughts of Land, made in Degrees and Minutes, are necessarily incident; which Defects, where Lands are very valuable, as in large Cities and Seaport Towns, must be greatly detrimental to the Buyer or Seller. The following Tables intirely remove these Difficulties; for they are calculated from no Degree, to one, two, and every five Minutes of a Degree, to 45 Degrees, and its Compliment; by which it can be easily discovered, to the Exactness of an Hundred Thousandth Part, on any Degree and Minute, the true Difference of Latitude and Departure from the Meredian, in Chains, Links, or any other Measure.

CONDITIONS.

This Supplement to be printed on good Paper, with an Explanation of its Use, as soon as Four Hundred are subscribed for: The Price one Spanish Milled Dollar, to be paid at the delivery of the Work. Subscriptions are taken in by Mr. Benjamin Mecom, at the New Printing-Office in Boston; Mr. Daniel Fowle, Printer in Portsmouth; Mr. Holt, Post Master in New-Haven; Capt. Gibbs, in Newport; Mr. Samuel Parker, Mr. William Weyman, and Mr. Hugh Gaine, Printers in New York; Mr. Dunlap, at the Post-Office, and Mr. Bradford, at the Coffee-House, in Philadelphia, and by the Author. By those several Persons the Mathematical Traverse Tables are ready to be delivered to the Subscribers and others.
